Russia Voted Seat in Korea Peace Talks

Allies Give Approval; To Act as 'Participant' On Side of Koreans

PANMUNJOM (AP)—Allied negotiators today approved Russia as a member of the Korean peace conference but as a "full participant" on the Communist side rather than a neutral.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur Dean again proposed that Russia attend the meeting as a belligerent after urging the Communists to explain their plan for neutrals to attend the conference—which he termed a "pig in a bag."

Addresses Subcommittee

"You want me to buy it without being able to examine it," Dean told the Reds in a subcommittee meeting on the composition and site of a Korean peace conference. The Allied-Red preliminary talks are in their fifth week.

Russian participation on the Communist side was approved by the U.N. Aug. 28, when it adopted its plan for the conference — a meeting of the two warring sides only.

The Reds have plumped for a round-table conference, with nonbelligerents attending.

Dean, who represents the United Nations which fought in Korea, told newsmen after Monday's meeting he was "still optimistic" although he felt the talks were moving at a "snail's pace."

Arbitrary Demand

He said he told the Reds they were making an "arbitrary demand" by insisting on nonbelligerent participation without making clear exactly what the added nations' roles would be. The Communists have proposed that nonbelligerents attend without a vote on important matters, but have refused to go into details on their plans.

"My questions are very reasonable," he said. "Won't you please study them and reply?"

Meanwhile, the Swedish member of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission sided with the Allied command in the view that all war prisoners who haven't returned to their homelands should be released as civilians Jan. 22.

"That is the way I read the armistice agreement," said Maj. Gen. Jan Svenstrom. "There is no secret about it—the disposition of the prisoners will be up to the Indian Red Cross and the NNRC."

Miss Roesch Named Martel Sesqui Queen

About 1,000 persons attended the colorful Sesquicentennial celebration at the Martel School Saturday night when Miss Mildred Roesch, senior student, was crowned queen.

Miss Roesch was elected by Martel School students from a list of five candidates. The four attendants were: Jenny Shuster, eighth grader; Patricia Hill, freshman; Judith Fabian, sophomore; and Lois Lyon, junior. The queen was crowned by I. M. Snyder, school music instructor.

In the beard-growing contest, first prize for the longest "crop" went to Bob Lauer. Robert Woolum was chosen as having the neatest beard. First prize in the old-time costume contest went to Mrs. Kermit Burkhart while Mrs. Emory Wyckoff was a close second.

A 225-year-old pitcher owned by Mrs. Elza Cotsamire won the prize for the oldest antique on display while second prize went to E. C. Grauer who exhibited a 215-year-old German Bible brought to this country more than 106 years ago.

The Sesquicentennial program was sponsored by the Martel Community Club with proceeds to go to the school.

Neighbors Forgive and Forget

Ex-Red GI Comes Home To Virginia Hills Cabin

CRACKER'S NECK, Va. (AP)—Cpl. Ed Dickenson was tired and happy today after a homecoming celebration that continued into the wee hours and swept away any doubts he might have had about how his people would welcome him.

There was a forgive-and-forget air around the little hillside cabin where his family and friends greeted him with a warm affection which bewildered even young Dickenson. He could only grin when asked how he felt about it.

Wanted Home Cooking

He planned to sleep, eat the home-cooked dishes he likes best, and map his future that has been fuzzy ever since he decided he preferred life in his homeland to life among the Communists.

Dickenson was one of 23 American soldiers who were listed as having refused repatriation in the exchange of prisoners in Korea. But then he left the other 22 and bolted to freedom a month ago, saying he hadn't acted sooner because of death threats.

Dickenson, 23, has said he would re-enlist in the Army after his present 30-day furlough. But last night he hinted he might stay in the hills he left three years ago to enter the Army. "I've got a lot of thinking to do about it," he said.

A neighbor commented: "When he sees how we feel, I think, he'll stay."

Father Opposes Service

His 73-year-old father, Van Buren Dickenson, said: "I'm going to knock it out of him, his going back into the Army. We need him at home and I don't think it would be right for him to leave again."

Dickenson ended his 10,000-mile journey from a Korean prison camp last night and walked straight into a rousing, almost hysterical welcome from brothers, sisters, in-laws and friends who had trudged up the hillside to the family home.

He stepped from a car into a pouring rain after a 15-hour automobile trip from Washington. Men, women and children streamed out of the cabin into the rain to embrace and kiss him and to shake his hand and pound his back.

Neighbors began gathering at the house at 5 p.m. The crowd had grown to around 100 by the time he arrived five hours later. They were jammed into the four-room house so thickly it appeared the floors might collapse under the weight.

Ed's sister, Mrs. Oma Wells, and other members of the family had worked in the kitchen all day preparing food. There was a fresh-baked country ham and sandwiches, cakes and pies.

"We haven't got a turkey yet but we'll find one for Thanksgiving," the elder Dickenson said.

Perhaps the happiest two people in all the throng were the father and mother, Van Buren and Bessie Dickenson.

"I haven't been able to sleep or eat good for three years, worrying about that boy," Van Buren said. "But I feel fine now. I think this coming home has done me more good than a bushel of medicine."

And Mrs. Dickenson said: "I guess this is the happiest day of my life."

The father and mother went to Washington as guests of the Bristol Herald Courier to meet their boy. They left Washington early Sunday after he had received a quick medical clearance at Walter Reed Hospital.

Tests Turn Up 35 Suspected Diabetes Cases

Of the more than 300 persons taking the free diabetes detection tests at doctors' offices through [illegible] last week, a total of 35 suspected diabetes cases were uncovered.

The week-long campaign was backed by the Marion Academy of Medicine in co-operation with a nation-wide drive sponsored by the American Diabetes Association.

Tests given Saturday, the final day of the campaign, reports to bring the total to 35 the number of suspected diabetic cases. Some 125 persons took the test Saturday.

Dr. Charles Wilson, who served as local campaign chairman, said the detection drive was successful. Purpose of the drive was to find the diabetes cases and begin treatment while the ailment can be brought under control.

City's Downtown Streets To Be Decorated Tonight

Christmas decorations go up along Marion streets tonight as members of the Retail Merchants Division of the Chamber of Commerce and electricians from Marion unions take on the job.

Beginning at 7:30 tonight, the men hope to have their task completed in three or four hours. They will gather at the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. on Leader St. There they will be placed into working groups and assigned different sections of the city to decorate.

DECORATIONS, which were cleaned and made ready for installation last Tuesday night by about 50 members of the Retail Merchants and about 20 electricians, will be moved to their locations this afternoon by trucks and men of the Ohio Edison and General Telephone Companies.

The task tonight may be made lighter by a mobile unit which will supply the men with coffee and doughnuts. Don Flach, Al Hamburg, and B. N. North will operate the truck, keeping the men refreshed.

Decorations will be put up on Center St. and Main St. At E. Center St. near the Marion Water Co. office, a set of bells will be placed above the street. Moving west, streamers will be strung across the street to Park Blvd. where another set of bells will be located.

THE SAME PROCEDURE will be used on Main St. Decorations will extend from the Big Four Railroad tracks to the office of the Ohio Edison Co.

Pole plaques will be located on the utility poles along both sides.

U.N. To Get Late Report On Stalemate

Chief of NNRC Ready To Ask Group's Aid In Korean Deadlock

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—A diplomatic informant in the U.N. disclosed today that Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya is preparing to ask the U.N. General Assembly to step into the Korean prisoner repatriation stalemate.

The source said that the Indian chief of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission in Korea has completed a lengthy report, giving all sides of the repatriation deadlock. The report is expected here late this week.

More Debate Expected

One copy is going to Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. He will circulate it to all U. N. members, opening up the question for another heated debate.

The informant said it is understood Thimayya's report will make no judgment on the deadlock, which in its latest phase has halted prisoner explanations for a week. But he said it would put the whole question in the hands of the Assembly for decision.

The Communists failed to convince 97 per cent of the Chinese and North Korean prisoners they have interviewed that they should return to Red territory. They halted the explanations on a technicality.

About 20,000 of the 22,000 prisoners captured by the U. N. forces and still held remain to be questioned.

All Factions Comment

Thimayya's report, it was said, will carry statements by the Polish and Czechoslovak representatives on the repatriation commission, who support the Communists, by the Swiss and Swedish delegates; and a review by Thimayya himself.

There was no advance indication what, if anything, Thimayya's report would say about the conflicting views of India's Prime Minister Nehru and U. S. Secretary of State Dulles on the future of the prisoners.

Nehru has said that, unless the Korean political conference gets under way, the U. N. and Communist commands must again negotiate the disposition of those prisoners who still refuse to go back [illegible] Jan. 22, the end of the 120-day period of explanations and conference provided by the armistice agreement.

Should Be Freed

Dulles contends prisoners still held on that date should be released as civilians to go where they wish.

The Thimayya report is expected to be made public here about the time the U. N. Political Committee is ready to again debate the Korean question in its debate.

The committee was involved again today in discussion of Russia's long-standing proposals for atom and hydrogen bomb prohibition and slashing armaments by a third. That discussion was expected to go through Wednesday—with the plan due for another overwhelming defeat.

In a brief Thanksgiving holiday session Thursday, the committee hopes to get rid of the question of moving unwanted Nationalist Chinese guerrilla bands out of Burma.

The 60-nation Assembly plans plenary sessions next Friday and Saturday to debate U. S. atrocity charges against the Communist Chinese and North Koreans. A 150-page "white paper" will be distributed to delegates before the sessions to furnish additional ammunition for the major policy speech U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. is writing.

The President plans to return to Washington Sunday night. Thus he will miss the Army-Navy football game in Philadelphia Saturday.

Leaders Differ Over Keeping GIs in Europe

Commitment Pledging NATO Support Hit By Sen. Hickenlooper

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) and Humphrey (D-Minn) disagreed today on whether the United States should make any commitment to retain its troops in Europe as a spur to approval of a European Defense Community.

Both members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said they expect the issue to come before Congress in some form. They said there are obvious indications it will be brought up by the French at the Big Three conference in Bermuda early next month.

Hickenlooper said he was opposed to binding this country to what might turn out to be indefinite maintenance of troops in Germany. He emphasized he was not talking about the manning of U. S. bases abroad.

"I wouldn't support any commitment to leave American forces in Europe for any specified length of time," the Iowa senator said. "I think we must preserve our own discretion in this matter . . .

"I'd like to see some clear-cut demonstration of more vigor on the part of the European nations themselves."

Humphrey agreed that he doesn't like the idea of having American

1,000 Arrested In Philadelphia Hoodlum Drive

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Determined Philadelphia police — deluged with complaints of rowdyism by youthful mobs in recent weeks —drove ahead with a crackdown on teen-age gangs today after rounding up more than 1,000 youngsters over the weekend.

Capt. Howard E. Leary of the Juvenile Aid Bureau and Police Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons said the police will "harass and haunt these gangs until they make up their minds to settle down, be good citizens and stop bothering others."

The comments came in the wake of the unprecedented weekend roundup which saw 625 youngsters taken into custody from one police division in the northern section of the city while raiding squads in other parts of Philadelphia brought in more than 400 boys and girls.

Gibbons said increasing complaints of beatings, holdups, and robberies by young toughs "who hang around sleazy poolrooms, taprooms and all-night diners instead of staying at home and doing something constructive" prompted the crackdown.

Inspector John F. Driscoll headed a special detail of 90 policemen and 24 policewomen who picked up the teen-agers.

Even as the raid was going on, Gibbons disclosed, four youths mugged a 45-year-old woman, held her prisoner and criminally as-

Bid for Parole By Hiss Again Turned Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alger Hiss today lost a second plea for parole from prison.

Dr. Paul Tappan, chairman of the U.S. Parole Board announced: "The Board of Parole today automatically reconsidered the parole application of Alger Hiss and agreed there should be no change in the previous order of denial of parole."

The application of the former State Department official -- now serving a prison term on conviction of lying when he swore he did not give government secrets to the Communists—was first considered and turned down just one year ago. Under board procedure, it came up automatically for a further look 12 months later.

Hunting Season Here Gets Off To Safe Start

The 1953 hunting season got off to a safe but delayed start this morning. Following a one-week postponement because of dry weather, hunters were quick to get into the fields to begin their hunting of rabbits, and other small game.

No hunting accidents were reported to either the sheriff's office or police department. The season was officially opened at 9 a.m. for rabbits, pheasants, partridge and grouse. Tonight at 6 p.m. the season on raccoon and opposun begins.

O. H. Neimeyer of Prospect, county game protector, reports hunters in the Marion area shoul have good luck this year. He said most small game is plentiful.

Killing of Child Baffles Tokyo Army Probers

9-Year-Old Daughter Of American Colonel Is Brutally Murdered

SAGAMIHARA, Japan (AP)—Army investigators said today they were stumped in the vicious slaying of the 9-year-old daughter of an American colonel.

However, they suggested the killer may have been someone she knew and trusted.

The killing left a haze of fear over this huge U.S. Army housing area, which usually rang with the shouts and laughter of playing children.

Rites Set Tuesday

Funeral services will be held Tuesday for pretty, red-haired Susan Rothschild, whose gagged body was found in a drainage ditch shortly after dark Saturday by her father, Col. Jacquard H. Rothschild.

Her face and neck had numerous bruises and scratches, Army doctors reported after an autopsy, but "there was no evidence of rape or attempted rape."

Investigators for the Army's Criminal Investigation Division (CID), however, did not discount the possibility of an attempted sex crime by a killer frightened away before he could violate the child.

An Army spokesman said investigators had found no clues to what the Army termed a "brutal, vicious murder" and that it was holding no suspects.

Guard Children

"Usually in a case like this," said one CID agent, "you soon find some small thing as a starting point in your investigation. But so far in this case we must still find that something."

Meanwhile, frightened parents in this suburban-type housing development were convoying their children to and from school making them stay indoors or within the confines of their own yards. A

To Visit Commonwealth

Royal Couple Will Start Tonight on World Tour

LONDON (AP)—Flying weather fit for a queen was forecast for the start tonight of the six-month round-the-world Commonwealth tour by Elizabeth II and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

Security guards at London airport kept a 24-hour watch over the American-built Stratocruiser Canopus before its takeoff for Bermuda, by way of Gander, Nfld.

It will be the first transatlantic flight in history for a reigning British sovereign though Elizabeth, before succeeding to the throne, made the aerial crossing with her husband in 1951 for their tour of Canada and the United States.

Big Send Off

The farewell was planned as a full state occasion, with members of the royal family on hand to see the Queen and the duke off. Prime Minister Churchill and the Commonwealth high commissioners in London will also be at the airport.

Extraordinary precautions were taken to safeguard the flight. Eight destroyers of the British and Canadian navies were spaced out across the north Atlantic for a radio watch of the 2,400-mile flight to Gander.

Council To Fill In

Two Royal Canadian Air Force bombers will provide a flying escort for the last 900 miles of the Atlantic hop and will accompany the Canopus for the rest of the way to Bermuda, where it is scheduled to land tomorrow morning.

The royal couple will be gone until next May.

FBI Reports on Coe, Glasser, Perlo, Adler To Be Put on Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators looked to the Justice Department today for answers on how much information the Truman Administration had linking Harry Dexter White's co-workers with Red espionage.

With no witnesses announced in advance, the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee called a public hearing to put into the record documentary evidence requested from Atty. Gen. Brownell.

Brownell Started Furor

It was Brownell who rekindled the Communists-in-government controversy. Brownell charged in a speech Nov. 6 that, despite FBI reports pointing to White as a spy, former President Truman promoted White in 1946 from assistant secretary of the treasury to U. S. director of the International Monetary fund.

Truman, in a nationwide radio-TV reply, accused Brownell of "cheap political trickery" and said he permitted the promotion of White, now dead, to keep him and others accused as spies under surveillance.

But FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover testifying before the Senate subcommittee, said he did not agree in advance to such an arrangement and that it hampered the FBI's watch on White. Last night, the subcommittee counsel, Robert Morris, said Hoover turned down one invitation to testify in the case but accepted a second.

Story Prompted Action

Morris, interviewed on an NBC television program, said Hoover decided to break his self-imposed ban on congressional committee appearances "after a story was well circulated" that he had agreed to keeping White in the government.

When asked, Morris said he doubted Hoover considered whether his testimony might cost him his job if the Democrats come into power later. There were indications Hoover might get a cool reception from Democrats when he goes before Congress next year in support of the FBI budget request.

Seeks Pattern

Some Democrats, while not saying anything publicly, seem to feel Hoover cast his lot with the GOP and tarnished the non-partisan reputation he has maintained through 29 eventful years as FBI director. However, there were no signs that Democratic coolness would freeze away any funds requested for the FBI.

Morris said the subcommittee is not trying to put the finger on individual Communists although testimony "very definitely" could lead to spy convictions. He said it is looking into alleged Communist infiltration of years ago because it

Makes Caverns Showplace

'Hole-in-Ground' Pays for Missourian

NEW YORK (AP)—Lester B. Dill's biggest asset is a hole in the ground.

"I guess you'd be safe in saying I am the most successful private cave operator in America," admitted Lester, who is the Phineas T. Barnum of underground showmanship.

As a barefoot farm boy Lester used to love to explore the giant Meramac Caverns, 55 miles southwest of St Louis, where legend held that outlaw Jesse James and his gang hid and buried their loot.

In 1933 Dill achieved his boyhood dream and bought the cave, which he says is exceeded in size only by Kentucky's Mammoth Cave and New Mexico's Carlebad Caverns. It has 26 miles of passageways, an underground river, and according to Dill "is celebrating its hundred millionth birthday this year." Nobody baked it a cake.

The cave cost $30,000, and Lester, who saw the business posibilities in it that Jesse James overlooked, now wouldn't sell it for a million dollars.

"We've had 1,600,000 visitors since 1933," he said. "But the cave business isn't as rosy as some people think it is. You can't stand still in the cave business. You have to keep up with the times.

"People don't want to go into a cave just to look at the darkness. They want to see something. You have to dramatize the cave—put in music and daylight lighting."

Lester puts on a show that winds up with a record of Kate Smith singing "God Bless America" and a projection of the U.S. flag proudly waving against a rock wall 500 feet underground.

He has found most people will believe anything but the truth once they get in a cave. Take those blind fish in his caverns. They are only two or three inches long. Lester went to a lot of trouble catching 50 of them and putting them in a pool.

"Everybody thought they were fakes," he said "So I just tossed me a 30-pound catfish in that pool Now, as far as I know, that catfish could see as well as an eagle, and I didn't even claim it was near-sighted.

"But everybody looked at it and said, 'See that big blind fish,' and they were happy. Couldn't sell 'em at all on the little fish that were really blind."

Same way with his guides. Lester has a hillbilly guide who tells the tourists tall tales about the cave, and a college-trained guide who tells the facts.

"Most of em prefer the hilbilly guide," Lester said "People just don't have any faith in a college graduate in a cave"

Lester once jestingly announced he was prepared to modernize his cave and shelter one million people in the event of atomic attack. Immediately he was besieged by mail requests for room reservations.

"As a matter of fact a well located cave is the safest place in the world during earthquakes, floods, or storms," he said. "You never heard of anybody being struck by lightning in a cave, did you? Lightning just won't go into a cave"

Dill says there are 418 commercial caves in 39 states, but most operators don't make much profit because they let their caves get out of date. That's why a lot of them are up for sale.

"Most folks, though, dream about owning an island, and I can't see why," said Lester. "I'd feel hemmed in on an island"

The first thing Lester did on his arrival in Manhattan was to visit the subway—and he promptly got lost. He has a very low opinion of the subway.

"If it weren't for the ride, I doubt if anybody would pay their way in to see it," he observed.

The subway charges 15 cents, and the customers come out scowling. Lester charges grownups $1.50 to walk through his subway, and they emerge humming "God Bless America."

"The only difference is in the showmanship," said Lester, modestly.

100 Farmers Visit Wyandot County's Annual Lamb Tour

UPPER SANDUSKY — Approximately 100 sheepmen attended the Wyandot County Lamb Tour which was conducted through the county on Thursday, W. W. Wharton, associate county agent, stated that he was well pleased with the attendance and the discussion carried on by the resource personnel. Ralph Grimshaw, Extension Sheep Specialist; Walter Finlay, Eastern Order Buying Co.; Dick Story, Swift and Co ; and Arthur Beasley, Producers, served in this capacity.

At their first stop, the tour goers visited the Louis Gohl flock where they saw 90 head of natives on feed. Mr Gohl is feeding shelled corn and alfalfa hay.

At the second stop, Mr. Wharton introducted Eugene Van Buren, owner of 70 head of natives and 450 Montana westerns. The sheepmen were interested in Mr. Van Buren's corn cob bedding as well as his flock ration of corn, oats, supplement and mixed hay.

At the third stop the sheepmen saw 800 head of Wyoming and Colorado westerns on feed These lambs, owned by Tom Kotterman and A R Cramer, were being fed shelled corn, grass silage and mixed hay. The sheepmen were especially interested in the wire-lined bunks and the automatic waterers.

At their last stop, the Morrel and Wilbur Shane farm, the tour goers visited a flock of 250 Woming westerns. The Shanes had sown rye in their corn field, then pastured the standing corn and the rye with the lambs.

At the end of the tour, Mr. Wharton announced that there would be a sheep meeting of general interest to all sheepmen of the county on the subject of establishing a lamb pool in Wyandot County. The subject will be discussed and a decision made on Monday at 8 p.m. in the Courthouse. All sheep producers of the county are urged to attend.

Negotiations Are Resumed in Strike At North American

LOS ANGELES, Calif. (AP)—Union and company representatives of strikebound North American Aviation, Inc., went back to the conference table today in an effort to settle a four-week walkout which has been marked by several reports of minor vandalism and by one arrest.

A man identified as a striker was taken into custody yesterday on suspicion of burglary, malicious mischief and peace disturbance after the husband of a non-striker opened fire on a person he said was throwing rocks at his home.

Under arrest is Mark Harry West, 36, of Whittier. Sheriff's deputies said he had been employed at North American and reported they found two bullet holes in his automobile.

Earl Lowry, 28, told the officers he saw someone at his front door after the house had been pelted with rocks. He said the man fled in an auto, and he fired at the car.

Lowry's wife joined in the strike originally, but went back to work last Monday, said Lowry, who is not a North American employe.

The strike started Oct. 3, in support of demands by the CIO United Auto Workers for a 26-cent hourly wage boost. The company offered 4 per cent over wages ranging from $1 42 to $3.32 hourly.

Kill Devil Hill in North Carolina where the Wrights made their first flight in 1903 moved a tenth of a mile because of blowing sand before it was anchored in 1929 says the National Geographic Society.

Railroader's Automobile Solves Touring Problem

BATESVILLE, Miss. (UP)—T. K. Williams, superintendent of the Memphis division of the Illinois Central Railroad, has solved the problem of touring the company's tracks.

Williams has equipped a 1939 automobile with steel flange wheels, and, with a locked steering gear, cruises up and down the 958 miles of track he is responsible for. The vehicle averages 12 miles per gallon on regular gasoline and cruises between 35 and 45 miles per hour.

And Williams is quick to point out he has no trouble with blowout or worn tires.

Police Probing Butler County Traffic Deaths

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Five persons died on Butler County roads over the weekend and police tried today to unravel riddles involved in two of the deaths.

A skull fracture possibly suffered when he was thrown out of an automobile yesterday was fatal to Herschel Sorrell, 31, of Middletown. He was found without shoes, stockings or identification.

Police picked up two suspects and said one possessed Sorrell's driver's license.

Authorities also were uncertain about the circumstances surrounding the death of another man in his early 30s. His friend, Leon Johnson, 22, identified him as James Jones of Dayton.

Johnson said he was unable to remember who was driving the car or how the fatal mishap occurred yesterday. Police said the car failed to turn on a curve on Ohio 73 and plunged off an embankment. Johnson was booked on an open charge and officers indicated the possibility of foul play was being investigated.

Others who were killed in Butler County traffic accidents were Soll Begley, 45, of New Miami, and a father and son, Lloyd Dowell, 57, and Ed Dowell, 30, both of Dunville, Ky.

BEAL HEADS SHRINE

BUCYRUS—Dorsey Beal of Bucyrus, was elected president of the Bucyrus Shrine Club at the annual reorganiation meeting here Wednesday night. Other officers are: vice president, Paul Downend, Bucyrus; secretary-treasurer, A. D. Neff, Bucyrus; directors, T. H. Felts, Crestline, H. R. Kibler and R. L. Koons, both of Bucyrus, and E. S. Naus, Upper Sandusky. The club, which has members in Bucyrus, Crestline and Upper Sandusky, voted to sponsor a ceremonial breakfast for the new candidates to Aladdin Temple Shrine in Columbus.

ALL DRESSED UP FOR THE FOG. Faces protected but otherwise exposed to the elements, four British ice performers wear smog masks as they head for rehearsals in London. The girls, heeding warnings by British doctors against often fatal respiratory troubles blamed on London's smoky fogs, apparently have built up resistance against leg chill due to their icy vocation. You can't recognize them behind the masks, but they are, from left: Heather Belbin, Jane Conlon, Joan Connell and Maureen Pain.

Escapee Recaptured

McCONNELSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Robert G. Wallace, 42, who escaped yesterday from the Morgan County jail while awaiting arraignment on charges of breaking and entering, was recaptured today at his home near Newark, police reported.

Sheriff S. A. McConnell of Morgan County returned the man to the jail. The sheriff said no trace was found of a panel truck in which Wallace was believed to have made his escape. Newark police also want Wallace on burglary charges.

Cuyahoga County Price-Fixing Case Is Set for Hearing

CLEVELAND (AP) — The federal government's case of price-fixing in Cuyahoga County's 20-million-dollar-a-year wholesale candy, cigarette and tobacco trade is scheduled for trial today.

In a 10-page indictment a federal grand jury returned here 17 months ago, the charge was made that Greater Cleveland retailers were forced to pay "arbitrary and artificial prices" as a result of an agreement to control wholesale prices and keep out competition.

A jury in the court of Judge Charles J. McNamee is to hear the case, for which the government has subpenaed 42 witnesses.

There appeared a chance, however, that rather than go ahead with a trial that lawyers estimate would take from two to three weeks, defendants might enter pleas of no contest.

FOUNDRY MOVES

BUCYRUS — The S and C Aluminum Foundry, formerly located on N. Sandusky Ave., has moved into larger headquarters at 215 Railroad St. Nels Swanson and V. D. Carrick, foundry owners, announced here today. The factory was established five years ago and produces small aluminum castings, along with mail boxes name plates and novelties.

Man Killed, Wife Hurt After Quarrel in Canton

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A 42-year-old plasterer was killed, and his estranged wife was wounded seriously last night during a quarrel and struggle for a pistol.

Police were unable to learn which of the two had the pistol and killed Raymond A. Locy and wounded his wife, Alva, 46.

The estranged couple began their quarrel in the hallway of a building where they occupied separate rooms, police said. From the hallway they moved their fight into a restaurant in the same building. There, in a scuffle for the pistol, Mrs. Locy fell to the floor wounded in the chest. Her husband ran outside and fell in a vacant lot.

Students Cheer Indiana Coach Despite Losses

Bernie Cummins Gets Big Hand After 3,000 Gather at His Home

BLOOMINGTN, Ind (AP)—Coach Bernie Crimmins, whose football team won only two out of nine games this season, showed up more than three hours late for a surprise demonstration by 5,000 cheering Indiana University students early today.

Crimmins and his wife had gone to Indianapolis to visit friends after his team's 30-0 rout by Purdue in their Old Oaken Bucket classic Saturday

Students started swarming around his darkened house about 10 p m yesterday, the hour Crimmins had been notified to return for an important meeting"

The students sang and cheered They chanted, "One-two-three-four Get the bucket in 54 ' They got restless climbed trees and trampled shrubbery.

IU's marching band had come out to cheer the coach whose team finished ninth in the Big Ten, but switched to dance music for dancing in the street

As the hour grew later, Col Raymond L Shoemaker, dean of students, announced everyone—co-eds included—could stay out until the cheer-Crimmins mission was completed, no matter what the hour

Calls weren't answered in the Indianapolis home where Crimmins and his wife Dorothy, were visiting his roommate of student days at Notre Dame—Bill Kennedy, now a steel manufacturer.

Police cars went to the edge of the city to watch for the Crimmins car One of them finally spotted the car about 1 a m and waved it to the side of the road

' Follow us " the police said

Crimmins admitted later he was frightened, though he said he d been observing Indiana's 65-mile-an-hour speed limit

The escort took them straight to the Crimmins home, six blocks from the campus, where 3 000 of the demonstrators were still waiting, warming their hands over little bonfires in the street

"I know what to say, usually but not this time," Crimmins told the students "This is like a real big surprise party "

The demonstration was over in about 15 minutes

JUVENILE JURYMAN. Merrit Spiegel, 28 months old joins in the gag after it was learned that a letter containing a jury duty summons was addressed to him—not to his dad, Bernard The elder Spiegel was a little irked when the letter from the court arrived at their home in New York City because he had served two weeks last year and thought he should have more time between appearances While he was airing his views, his wife, Mildred, took a closer look at the official paper and discovered it was addressed to Merrit

Much-Needed Rain Falls Over Midwest Area

By The Associated Press

An eastward moving low pressure system brought rain to New England and the Middle Atlantic States, and the storm-lashed Pacific coast battened down for more blows the Weather Bureau said are on the way.

And in the Deep South, a network of thunderstorms that spawned two tornadoes in Louisiana and northwestern Florida yesterday had moved eastward.

The rain had cleansed and partly washed away the five - day smog that blanketed New York and environs and caused breathing discomfort late last week

Rain-swollen rivers isolated several southwestern Oregon towns yesterday, caused property damage, threatened to flood lowlands and drowned some livestock. Landslides loosed by the rain, and high water blocked several highways in Oregon and northern California

High winds and high tides whipped the Washington coast, too, but without serious damage

Precipitation amounts included 2.15 inches at Eugene, Ore . 2.67 at Medford and 4.07 at Cape Blanca.

Freezing and near-freezing temperatures were general from the Great Plains to the eastern Great Lakes and as far south as Texas It was some 10 to 20 degrees warmer along the Eastern Seaboard and from the Rocky Mountains eastward Aberdeen, S D 's 17 was lowest of the morning.

Snow flurries continued in the northern Lakes region, with Escanaba, Mich , reporting four inches of snow.

One tornado smashed six homes and injured 21 persons in Woodville, Fla , yesterday, and another ripped across two southern Louisiana parishes (counties), destroying 26 homes but injuring only one person.

Hickenlooper Sees Communist Threat In Central America

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said today there is a "very serious" Communist threat in Central America—a problem he said demands greater attention by the United States

Hickenlooper, just back from an inspection tour of U S. information operations in a dozen Latin American countries, said he found agitation about "Yankee imperialism"

"There is a basic respect for us in these countries which we can do a lot about developing, the Iowa senator said in an interview "I am firmly convinced as the result of my trip that we should devote much more attention to bettering our relationships with Latin America

"We have been giving only minimum attention to these countries in dispensing technical advice. I think we have spent a disproportionate share of funds for such services elsewhere in the world and we should readjust that situation"

Nothing To Say

Neither of the Greenlease kidnap-murderers had anything to say in his own behalf before hearing the court's sentence of death. For once, no one has anything to say in behalf of human beings who are going to pay the death penalty for their crimes.

There are no excuses being made, to explain away the fact of their enormous guilt. It is being ackrowledged on all sides for a change that some human beings can turn so sour in even a broadly tolerant society that they are better off dead.

This particular pair shared a common circumstance in the events which preceded the commission of the crime for which they will be executed next month; they had far more than ordinary security. The only thing that forced them to go beyond the pale of human compassion was their diligent pursuit of the depravity which had become their dominant reason for being alive.

It is good to know there is no dissent—not even from their own lips—to the proposition that they have destroyed their right to live.

It Still Works

Tens of thousands of people who had fallen out of the habit of going to the movies are experiencing a revival of interest. Pictures like "The Robe," using the technique called CinemaScope, the "This Is Cinerama" show which has run continuously for months in New York City and the use of wide screens and improved sound systems have started people to talking again about America's favorite mass entertainment.

This is significant in more places than the moving picture industry.

It is significant in every place where people jump to the conclusion that everything has been done, that's all there is to do, there isn't any more.

The movie people had jumped to that conclusion not long ago. Their industry seemed to have run out of steam. Commentators were making jokes about the popcorn in the lobby being a bigger attraction than the main feature.

The movies needed a shot of confidence. They needed to start people to talking about them again. They needed a better mousetrap.

So they built one.

It still works. The soundest of all business adages in a free-enterprise system is as sound as it ever was.

Two-Platoon Spectators

After the thud of the last hard tackle there is destined to be a crackling discussion of the one-platoon system in college football this year.

Feelings are high and blows are low on this controversial topic. But before the debate starts, how about a word put in edgewise for two-platoon spectators?

In the good old days, the only spectators with any right to speak their minds about football were hardy souls who went to all the games. They sweltered when it was hot, hung on by their toenails when it was windy, shed water like ducks when it rained and were as hard as ptarmigans when it snowed.

Their hardihood earned them the right to be experts; i.e., to bore all comers with long rehashes of their favorite sport. But now they must share their long-windedness with members of the living room and barroom platoon — the spectators who stayed home and watched the "game of the week" on television.

Will they ruin football, too?

Heard Round the World

It takes a whopping set of statistics to make any kind of impression after some of the nuclear-fission figures. But get braced for this one.

The world's largest radio transmitter, which will be open for business after Wednesday, is a facility of the U.S. Navy. It will have an output of more than 1,200,000 watts, 22 times as much as the largest commercial transmitter.

This electronic giant has been fabricated on a mountain-top site near Seattle during six years of construction at a cost of $14,000,000 and has an antenna of 22 miles in length with 10 times that much buried as ground wire.

In operation, the transmitter will give the Navy instantaneous communication with fleet units at any point on the earth. Its signal will be so strong it even will cut through the magnetic storms which paralyze ordinary radio communication in the Arctic areas.

Hereafter, when the U.S. Navy comes out with its famous, "Now hear this. . ." it can be heard simultaneously at every point on what used to be thought of as a world consisting of vast, unbridgable distances.

Inherited From Roosevelt

By James Marlow

Alleged Spy Rings in Operation Before Truman

WASHINGTON — Atty. Gen. Brownell, whatever his reason, skipped over the Roosevelt administration when he accused former President Truman of being lax with Communists.

Yet the alleged spy rings must have been inherited by Truman from the Roosevelt regime. But Truman and FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, like Brownell, concentrated their explanations on what happened in Truman's time.

This glossing over of the Roosevelt period raises questions which may have to be answered before the sensational case of Harry Dexter White fades from the news.

For example: Did Roosevelt ever know, or was he ever told, about a spy ring in government in his administration? If so, who told him? How did he handle it? Any differently from Truman?

White went to work for the government in 1934. Whittaker Chambers says White was in a Soviet spy ring in the mid-1930s. Elizabeth Bentley says he was still spying in the last years of Roosevelt's administration.

Perhaps in aiming so hard at Truman, Brownell figured he could start the ball rolling and then let the Senate's subcommittee on internal security, which is investigating subversion, pick up the ball and run with it.

This subcommittee can hardly consider its work complete without tracking the alleged spies back to Roosevelt's days and learning whatever was then known or done about them.

Truman, always loyal to Roosevelt and his memory, could have tried in his talk to the nation to take some of the heat off himself by saying he had merely inherited any spy ring that existed.

Instead, he took full responsibility himself for what was or wasn't done. Hoover brought into the dispute, spoke only for warnings sent by the FBI to the White House in Truman's time. Hoover made only vague reference to reports to Roosevelt and former President Herbert Hoover.

On Nov. 8, 1945, Miss Bentley went to the FBI and told of White and others she alleged were spies. She said she had been a Soviet spy ring courier. Within a month Hoover sent a 30,000-word report about the alleged spies to Truman.

Yesterday a Washington newspaper editor (J. R. Wiggins of the Post), in a lengthy analysis of the White case, wrote: "The speed with which the Bentley information was relayed to the White House (and the absence of any claim of prior knowledge) suggests that the Bentley story was as great a surprise and shock to the FBI as it was to the President and his Cabinet.

"A counterespionage system that depends for its first information of treason upon the disaffection of an enemy agent falls somewhat short of desired efficiency."

When Hoover, testifying before the Senate subcommittee, denied reports he had agreed with Truman to keep White in the government, he did what Brownell and Truman did; stuck to what happened in Truman's time.

No senator asked him if he had made any reports on White or a spy ring to Roosevelt, or knew about them then. Hoover didn't volunteer any such information.

He did say in his report to Truman on White, in February 1946, that the information came from 30 different sources whose reliability had been established by "inquiry or long-established observation and evaluation."

This would indicate Hoover had had the finger on White a long time or had done very speedy work finding out about him in the three months after Miss Bentley walked into the FBI to tell her story.

In his book, "Witness," Chambers, admitted onetime spying messenger, said he first told the FBI about the spy ring and White in 1941. Two FBI agents visited him then, he said, adding that he did not hear from the FBI again for a year.

It's possible that if the efficiency of his bureau continues to be challenged, Hoover, personally or through information released by his bureau will have something to say on spy rings before Truman became president in April 1945.

Washington Protocol

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — To a capital hostess protocol must be as familiar as an oyster fork.

Protocol is the etiquette of formal occasions.

In Washington it applies to the placing of persons according to their importance in a receiving line or at a dinner table. It applies also to the manner in which you address officials and the business of making calls.

"Protocol in Washington is of importance, and the rules of precedence governing who ranks whom must be adhered to rigidly when entertaining officials," says Mrs. Caroline Hagner Shaw, social arbiter and publisher of the 'Social List of Washington'. "Sometimes when not respected they cause crises, even an international situation!"

Mrs. Shaw recalls the time when Cordell Hull was secretary of state and an attache of a South American country was misplaced at a state dinner. Notes had to be exchanged between the government of the United States and that of his country.

Then there was the famous Dolly Gann-Alice Roosevelt Longworth incident of the Hoover administration concerning who outranked the other—Mrs. Gann, as official hostess for her widowed brother, Vice President Charles Curtis, or Mrs. Longworth, as wife of the speaker of the House, Nicholas Longworth.

At a reception given by President Theodore Roosevelt for the Supreme Court, the chief justice and the associate justices walked right out of the White House because the President had received members of the diplomatic corps first.

Abigail Adams, in 1800, was the first to set up a dignified social salon in the White House.

Thomas Jefferson would have none of this. Capital social leaders were very upset, the diplomats even more so.

The first real precedence controversy blew up when Jefferson offered his arm to Dolly Madison, wife of his vice president, to lead her in to dinner instead of the British minister's wife. Jefferson issued a statement:

"When brought together in society, all are perfectly equal whether foreign or domestic, in or out of office—no title being admitted here, those of foreigners given no precedence . . ." he wrote.

Protocol was reintroduced by Mrs. James Monroe after the "grand manner." It looks now like it's here to stay.

Cosmic Eruptions Denuding World

By Fred Manor

HELSINKI — Because of the cosmic eruptions through which we are passing, the world's available humus is shrinking, and there will be serious difficulties in growing enough food to prevent largescale famines.

This is the considered opinion of the Finnish professor, Vaino Auer, of the Helsinki University, one of world's leading authorities in geography.

Professor Auer has just returned from a seven years' research work in Patagonia, at the extreme tip of South America. He was engaged there in comparing climatic variations and the distribution of different soil types with similar conditions in northern Europe. Some of his research work was done on behalf of the Rockefeller Foundation.

PROFESSOR AUER said that in collaboration with the Yale University he has established without much doubt that, since 12,000 B.C., the world has experienced six cosmic eruptions. Two of these were in the late glacial period, and four in the post-glacial period.

The present eruption is comparable to those past eruptions, which had caused the extinction of the tertiary period monsters; the flooding of the lands that today lie at the bottom of the North Sea; or, 2,000 years ago, brought about starvation and the resulting mass migration of the people of Asia.

According to Professor Auer, these eruptions take place at almost regular intervals of 2,000 years, and are marked by drastic changes in animal and plant life, as well as by long periods of drought, the rising of sea level, and the receding of forests, supplanted by desert or shrub.

AT PRESENT we are experiencing all these phenomena, the spreading of the desert and of the steppe, the extinction of animal and plant life, and periods of intensive droughts, which are alarmingly reducing areas of cultivation.

The cause of these eruptions has not been explained, so far. They are probably of cosmic nature. However, there is no doubt that their effect is universal.

For instance, the extenction in the southern hemisphere of the huge tertiary period dinosaurs and pterodactyls occurred simultaneously with the extinction of the mammoth in the far north.

Eruptions were also responsible for the flooding of the area of the North Sea, which once was dry, inhabited land. At that time the British Isles were still connected with the Continent.

Professor Auer told me that fishermen, fishing in the North Sea, bring up, from time to time, mammoth teeth, or remnants of stone age human habitations, buried on the sea bed.

IN THE PROFESSOR'S view the best period enjoyed by our planet was before the violent eruption that occurred at about 2300 B.C. Up to that time forests and plants advanced everywhere, the climate was mild and pleasant, and plants which today can only be found in central Europe, then thrived in the Arctic.

The human race also seemed prosperous, and had spread to areas which today are no longer habitable.

The eruption which took place 2,000 years ago caused the advancing of the steppe in Asia, and brought about the great migration of nations.

According to modern historians, that migration put the clock back, as far as development of human race is concerned, by at least 500 years.

Now we are living in a period of a similar forceful eruption. The most remarkable phenomenon connected with it is a disturbance in the cycle of elements, which has been causing animals and plants to die out, and, above all, has been responsible for the widespread disappearance of micro-flora and micro-fauna.

Some thousand animal species have died out or are near extinction, according to a recent United Nations report.

WHAT IS MOST alarming is the disappearance of bacteria, which is causing the recession of forests, death of plants, and the erosion of humus.

In Chile, for instance, large forests with trees 120-feet high, are dying out, and all attempts at replanting them have been of no avail. New trees will no longer grow, and the forest area is being turned into a barren steppe. In other places in the southern hemisphere the inroads made by the steppe upon forests and cultivated land have been so rapid that they could actually be photographed.

Other symptoms of the present eruption are changes in rainfall, and in temperature. Rainfall, even if not lower than before, is now concentrated in short periods, followed by long periods of droughts.

TEMPERATURE has slightly increased all over the world, currents are more powerful and more intensive, and in the Arctic Sea and in northern Canada ice is melting rapidly.

Temperature on the coast of the Arctic Sea today is the same as in central Europe.

In Lapland, bogs are drying out, to become another outpost of the advancing steppe.

The 58-year-old professor warned that we are facing serious times. Since the human mind has not invented anything to cope with such cosmic eruptions, we shall have to husband carefully the shrinking humus, and change from extensive agriculture to intensive cultivat. "Otherwise there just will not be enough bread to go around," said Professor Auer.

"It takes 9,000 years of organic material to be formed. It can be destroyed in a year or two."

Goal To Go

By TRUMAN TWILL

Before the amateurs hang up their jerseys and cleats for another season, there's a matter we'd like to clear up.

We've cleared it up before but it always gets muddled up again. This has happened again.

Wise guys have been casting aspersions on our statement that we played football while obtaining what passed for higher education in our time and place. They mistrust our statement that this is so. When they learn we were no more robust then we are now, they snort in derision.

So do we. But our derision is against what has happened to human nature. Once upon a time when we said casually we used to be on The Team, nobody laughed.

It also was possible in those days to say something offhand about being a basketball player which we never were, as a matter of fact. But it was a handy lie to have on tap during the cage season. We even rang in high diving during the swimming season, first making sure there was no high-diving apparatus around.

Today everything is standardized. All divers have muscular necks. Basketball players are 6½ feet tall. Football players weigh from 180 pounds up and have hair that grows down to here.

Our own hair never grew any further down than here. The heaviest day we ever lived, which was the day the farmer hit us at maximum range with the buckshot, we never weighed more than 145 pounds.

Yet we did play football. We had a system.

Our system was to make sure we could walk home from every scrimmage and every game. We avoided all unnecessary roughness. We had a professional attitude toward the sport and never wasted an effort or a motion.

This is why we were not a good football player and could not even have been classified as a bad one, except for acute shortages of manpower. In those days, as in these, it was the rule that the game was played with 11 men on a side. We were the eleventh man.

This went on for seven years of high school and college. The most rigorous exercise we ever got out of football was in helping eager beavers to the sidelines after they had spavined themselves trying to be heroes.

The only injury we ever received was while resting on one hand on the greensward after an unavoidable encounter with a ruffian. Another ruffian stepped on the back of our hand. The only ground we ever gained was half the distance to the goal when a fool clipped us while we were ambling away from the place where a sharp encounter with the enemy seemed about to materialize.

We were not, however, without value. Besides being eleventh man we used to carry the chewing tobacco for lads who were everlastingly being knocked about and racked up. With us, the stuff was safe and reasonably sanitary. One of our functions was to hold up a silencing hand when our quarterback couldn't hear what signals he was calling because the crowd was roaring. Our hand was always spotlessly clean and showed up.

If wise guys want to cast aspersions on our pigskin record, there's nothing we can do to stop them. But we did get in there and fight for seven years. Well, anyway, we got in there. And we aimed to come out alive.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

What? No Inquiry?

President Eisenhower has been presented with a 39-pound live turkey by Roscoe Hill, Nebraska poultryman, on behalf of the National Turkey Federation and the Poultry and Egg National Bureau. There are rumors of an impending gift of dessert by the North American Pumpkin Pie Foundation and the World Crisper Celery League. We trust this is one happening in Washington these days which will be allowed to pass with no charges, countercharges, investigations, TV speeches, etc.

The turkey seemed pretty nervous. Ike was calm and cool but was conditioned for it, since he had already been "given the bird" by Harry Truman over video.

Ike sent the turkey back to Nebraska to be kept until a couple of days before Thanksgiving. He was taking no chances on keeping it on the upper levels in Washington with or without FBI data, ad he withheld any statement that he considered keeping it in order to trap other turkeys.

Roscoe Hill has not been attacked by the Democrats so far and, at this writing, the turkey had received no subpoena from anybody. It all looks like the routine and traditional gift of a turkey to a president as a Thanksgiving tribute, but in times like these all sorts of motives may be attributed. Is a 39-pound turkey too big for a Republican? Will the Democrats claim that no turkey ever given to them ran so high?

There is one uplifting thing about it. Everybody remembers clearly that there is a turkey and that it arrived.

We greatly fear, nevertheless, that in mere revenge the Democrats will insist that the matter be investigated. Both Mr. Hill and the turkey may be cross-examined, viz:

Q—Mr. Hill, what is behind this turkey?

A—I am behind it, sir.

Q—Don't be a smelly goster! What was the hidden purpose in giving away a 39-pound turkey. What was the object in sending such a whopping bird to the White House?

A—I don't recall sending it to the White House.

Q—May I refresh your recollection?

A—No, I have since looked over my papers and I find that I really did present it there. But you must realize, sir, that there are a lot of turkeys in this country, in and out of Washington, and that it is hard to remember a specific turkey.

Q—Did you give the turkey to the President or to his military aide?

A—I am not sure, but I am certain the President got it.

Q—What fixes this in your mind? Was it unusual for a President to get the bird?

A—NOT THESE DAYS!

(Take it from there.)

The answer of the investigators to Mr. Truman's claim he kept a suspect in a high post for a year just to trap others is that the trap down there was so overcrowded that subversives had to wait in line. . . Harry never had so many people listening to him as he did on his air-wave talk last week. The figures show he made even Margaret seem a minor TV star, and he did it without Jimmy Durante or Tallulah.

In point of interest, the Truman air-wave performance combined the appeal of "Dragnet," "This is Show Business," "Back That Fact," "Judge for Yourself" and "The Web."

Brownell followed up with "You Asked for It." But the public finished the week believing it had been listening to "Rumpus Room."

Faust was presented at the Metropolitan at the opera opening, with Faust himself, in a gray frock coat and white cravat, etc., and with Mephistopheles in evening clothes, with high hat and cane.

The urge to have Marguerite sung in a bathing suit or sarong was put down. No exhibitionism or screwball behavior took place at the opera opening, due, perhaps, to a realization that Lewis and Martin are too secure as knockabout comedians to be replaced by some of our best people.

Being Millionaire Has Drawbacks

Price of Success High, Tycoon Finds

NEW YORK (AP)—E. W. Stewart is one of those men who, when they scratch themselves, get gold in their fingernails

But like all millionaires he has a secret sorrow.

"My wife won't let me buy a professional football team," he said dolefully. "And neither will my accountant."

This has confronted him with the problem of whether, after all, it is worth while making money—if a man can't indulge himself in the simple pleasure of owning his own football team. Who wants to go through life just watching other people's football teams play?

"Anybody with brains and the ability to drive . . . drive. . drive . . . can make a million dollars if he puts his mind to it and shoves everything else out of his way," said Stewart. "But the price you pay for success is high—so high most people won't pay it. And it is very questionable whether it is worth it."

Stewart started his career in St. Louis as a $15 a month dry goods salesman. He went on to fame and fortune as perhaps history's most successful salesman of wet goods—bathing suits.

He heads Catalina, Inc., a beach wear firm which grossed 20 million dollars this year, of which Stewart personally sold one fifth in nation-wide air tours. He looks for a 25-million-dollar season next year.

"Girls now prefer more feminine beach wear . . . more frills and riffles . . . less of that tailored, boyish look," he said crisply. One of his current models features rows of pearls around the bra. Another beach style highlight—"sweetheart suits," or matching sets for a boy and his girl friend.

Stewart has a private swimming pool on his lemon ranch in San Fernando Valley, but spends so much time selling beach wear he has never learned the Australian crawl.

"I'd just as soon not talk about my own swimming," he said wryly. "I can dog paddle—but at least I don't drown."

He figures he never will learn to swim well until they put swimming pools in airplanes, where he spends much of his time.

Stewart is a tall, athletic, sandy-haired man of 61 who looks 45 and has the energy and youthful outlook of 25.

"Too many people in this country are selling old age," he said. "I don't buy old age—and I don't try to sell it to myself.

"Hard work won't make you old or kill you. Worry does. But why buy worry, either, if you can work and have fun?"

Here is his theory on how to be successful today:

"You have to sell your employes now before you even start selling your customers. Give me satisfied employes and I'll put over any business."

Stewart rewards his 35-year employes—and their wives—with a free month-long vacation in Honolulu, has a company-paid pension plan, says he keeps salaries above those paid by competitors.

"I've given away—literally given away—part of my company to my employes," he said, "and sometimes threaten them by telling them they'll have to take it all.

"It doesn't make any difference who owns a corporation today—it's who runs it that's important."

Stewart is regarded as one of America's most astute promoters and salesmen, a reputation he feels overlooks a basic fact:

"If I were really a good salesman, I'd be able to sell my wife on the idea of letting me buy a pro football team. That is what I really want in life. You know I used to play guard in high school."

That is the trouble with being a millionaire. Like any average Joe, you've still always got one more goal to go

FLEES JAIL

MCCONNELSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Sheriff S. A. McConnell says Robert G. Wallace, 42, escaped yesterday from the Morgan County jail where he was awaiting arraignment on two counts of breaking and entering. Mother of Child Slain in Japan Had Fatal Premonition

BALTIMORE (AP)—An ironic footnote to the tragic slaying of 9-year-old Susan Rothschild in Japan was told last night by a relative here.

Mrs. Stella Moses, first cousin of Susan's father, Col. Jacquard H. Rothschild, said Susan's mother, Mrs. Phyllis Rothschild, had a fear of losing a child.

"Until her second child, Phyllis always feared having just one," Mrs. Moses recalled. "A friend of hers who had an only child lost it in some kind of accident. Ronnie (Susan's 7-year-old brother) was supposed to protect them from that sort of thing."

Mrs. Moses described Susan as a "beautiful 9-year-old who inherited her mother's red hair and her father's good looks."

Studebakers To Go on Display Here

THE NEW 1954 STUDEBAKER automobiles go on display Tuesday at Albert and Adams Motor Sales, 325 N. Main St. Included in the newlines are the sports car, Commander Starliner, shown here, and a brand new line for Studebaker, the Conestoga station wagon.

There are 20 different body types available in the two and four-door sedans, hardtop convertibles, coupes, Land Cruisers, station wagons.

The new station wagon can accommodoate six persons. With the rear seat folded down for use as a utility car, a storage space of 64 cubic feet is available. Officials of the company say the new model has been designed to give the same comfort when driving as the other models, but still provide enough space for use in carrying luggage.

New grilles with vertical fins have been introduced this year. There are also new bumper guards, new hood ornaments on all models except the custom Champion; and chrome "rub rails" which extend on both sides of the car to offer protection against body dents and scratches.

The rub rails also help accentuate the flowing lines of the cars. They extend from the rear lights to the forward edge of the front door, and are standard equipment on all Regal sedans and Land Cruiser models.

Optional equipment on the new Studebakers are overdrive or automatic transmission, tinted glass, and hydraulic power steering.

Color combinations are plentiful in the new models. There are 41 combinations of color-styled interiors.

In the Conestoga station wagon, there are three two-tone combinations from which to choose Upholstery in the station wagon is of vinyl material.

Larger brakes are also features of the 1954 models. These are said to reduce braking effort by as much as one-third. This is accomplished by a new self-centering device which causes the brake lining to make uniform contact with the wheel drum.

Exterior styling of the new station wagons follows the lines of passenger cars with low hood and fender design.

The spare tire of the station wagons is carried in a special compartment under a hinged floor panel at the rear of the hauling compartment.

There are three large windows on each side and a curved glass section at the rear. Windows beside the rear seat are set in weather sealed molding and slide back for ventilation. Windows in the luggage section remain in a fixed position. Those in the front door opened in the usual manner.

Entrance to the rear seat is gained by tilting forward either of the two front seats.

Fire Destroys Farm Home at Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS — The six-room farm home of Mr. and Mrs. William Bates, located four miles west of Bucyrus on Route 30-N, was destroyed by fire of unknown origin about 1 a.m. Sunday.

The dwelling, a frame structure, burned to the ground. Virtually all the household contents were destroyed. The Bates family managed to remove a few articles from the kitchen, firemen reported.

Bates said the fire apparently started on the west side of the house.

One truck from the Bucyrus fire department and three trucks from the tri-township volunteer fire department were called to the scene but the fire had gained too much headway to be put under control, firemen reported. Loss was estimated unofficially at several thousands of dollars.

During the depression 1930s, scientists estimated that U. S population would level off at about 154 million people, but the nation now has more than 160 million.

The next midnight, Quinn's phone rang. Yep, it was Springer who said: "You're so darn anxious to get news that I thought I'd call you and give you some."

"I've just become a father." It was a boy.

Gales, Floods Hit Northwest

Oregon Areas Isolated As Rivers Leave Banks

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Storms struck the northern Pacific Coast yesterday, sending rivers over their banks and raking coastal areas with gale-force winds. More bad weather is expected today.

Hardest hit was the southwestern Oregon Coquille Valley region. Two towns and several farming communities, with a total population of 3,500, were isolated by the rain-swollen Coquille River.

The Coast Guard and state police said there was no immediate danger in the isolated towns of Myrtle Point and Powers. Other sources reported that much livestock had been lost and some property damaged in the Lee Valley farming community.

Further south, near Grants Pass, Ore., a coffer dam was swept away by the flooding Rogue River. Project officials estimated the loss at $50,000.

The Williamette Valley to the north also was threatened with lowland floods as torrential rains continued to pound the area.

A number of Oregon highways were blocked by slides and high water. Traffic in northern California also was disrupted by rains and slides.

Seven Injured In Accidents Over Weekend

Four Hurt When Car Swerves off Route 4 And Overturns in Field

Seven persons were injured in 14 accidents reported over the weekend by city police and state highway patrolmen from the Marion post. Three accidents were investigated by the patrol and 11 by city police.

Four persons were injured Saturday night when the car in which they were riding swerved off State Route 4 three and three-tenths miles north of the intersection with U. S Route 23. Time of the crash was 8 50 p m

The car was driven by Bernard W Tallman, 28, of 451 Adams St Patrol reports show the car left the road on the right side as he was southbound, swerved over to the left side and then back to the right side, where it went into a field, turning over several times.

About 50 feet of fence and four fence posts owned by Fred Hinamon of near Marion were torn up by the car. The auto was demolished.

Four Taken to Hospital

Tallman suffered a compound fracture of both legs. Three passengers in the car were also taken to City Hospital. Myron W. Evans, 18, of 502 Adams St. had both legs broken. William Tallman, 23, of 510 Tyler St. received multiple cuts and lacerations of the face and legs. Charles Baker, 15, of 509 Tyler St. received a bump on the head.

All but Baker were admitted to the hospital. The 15-year-old boy was treated and released. Ambulances from the Hughes Mortuary and M H. Gunder Sons Funeral Home took the injured persons to the hospital.

Mrs. Ethel L. Smith of 452 E Center St. was taken to City Hospital in a Boyd Funeral Home ambulance Sunday afternoon after the car driven by her husband, Albert F. Smith, 78, was involved in an accident.

At 3.50 p.m. Sunday, the Smith car collided with one driven by Willard Vallance, 25, of Pontiac, Mich. on U. S Route 23, less than one mile south of the Wyandot County line.

Auto Skids on Highway

Patrol reports indicate Smith's car skidded on the highway into the path of the Vallance car. The front end of the northbound Vallance automobile struck the left rear of the Smith car.

Smith's car then went into a ditch on the left side of the road, damaging the front end. The left front and side of the Vallance car were moderately damaged, as were the left rear corner, bumper, and right front end of Smith's car.

Mrs Smith received a dislocated shoulder and bruises of the knees. Mr. Smith was cited to appear in Municipal Court Saturday to answer a charge of unsafe operation.

A third accident was investigated by patrolmen Sunday at 1 45 p m on County Road 27, one mile north of U. S. Route 30-S. Cars driven by Merwin D. Hastings, 16, of near Kenton and Harold J. Arnold, 37, of near Upper Sandusky sideswiped on the road. The left sides of both cars were damaged moderately Neither driver was injured. Hastings was given a citation to appear before Juvenile Judge Edward Ruzzo in the future He was charged with driving left of the center of the road.

Man Faces 2 Charges

One of two persons injured in traffic accidents in Marion over the weekend was arrested by city police on two charges of drunk driving and leaving the scene of an accident. A total of 11 accidents were investigated.

Charles L. Lipcomb, 25, of Keytown Camp received a cut lip when his car plowed into the rear of another car at E Center St. and Kensington Pl. at 10.43 p m. Saturday

Patrolman Wayne Shepard saw the accident from a police cruiser nearby and reported that the driver of the other car, Charles D. Hamm, 19, of Merkle Ave., had stopped for a traffic light on E. Center St. when Lipcomb struck Ramm's car from the rear.

Shepard reported Lipcomb went on without stopping after the collision. Lipcomb was arrested and charged with leaving the scene of an accident and with drunk driving. He posted a $250 bond for his appearance in Municipal Court today when he pleaded not guilty to both charges. He was treated and released at City Hospital for the injury to his lip. Both cars were badly damaged, police said.

A hearing on the charges was set for 4 p.m. Wednesday.

wants to trace a pattern of government subversion which Communists might still be following.

He said the subcommittee has "several things" to ask Igor Gouzenko, onetime Russian embassy code clerk at Ottawa who in 1945 exposed a Red spy ring operating in Canada with contacts in the United States.

The subcommittee has asked the Canadian government again—after being turned down once—for permission to question Gouzenko. Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson is working on a reply, expected to be ready today or tomorrow.

Yesterday subcommittee Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) disclosed he has asked Secretary of State Dulles to forward to Canada an "authenticated copy of a signed statement" by Gouzenko in support of the renewed request.

In Ottawa it was learned this statement, which the Chicago Tribune published last Saturday, already is under study by Canadian authorities.

Could Give Advice

The Canadian government's position has been that Gouzenko has nothing more to tell. But in the statement Gouzenko, living in Canada under police protection, said he might be able to give useful advice to Jenner's group

Jenner has called White's case "not necessarily the most important" of those being looked into by his subcommittee.

In line with his plans for extending the investigation, Jenner asked Brownell to summarize FBI reports on some of White's associates in government, giving the dates these reports were sent to top officials.

At today's hearing the subcommittee planned to put in its record data along these lines about V. Frank Coe, Harold Glasser, Victor Perlo, Solomon Adler and possibly others.

Followed White

Coe, Glasser, Perlo and Adler all are former employes of the treasury department's monetary research division, once headed by White. Coe and Glasser later succeeded White as director of the division.

Like White, Coe later went with the International Monetary Fund. He became fund secretary at $20,000 a year and served until last December when, questioned by the Senate subcommittee, he refused to say whether he was a Communist or was then engaged in Soviet espionage.

Glasser stayed with the treasury department until his resignation at the end of 1947. In the spring of that year he went to Moscow as an adviser at a meeting of foreign ministers.

Italy Okays 5-Power Conference on Trieste

ROME (AP)—The Italian Foreign Ministry said today that Italy has agreed unconditionally to the Big Three proposal for a five-power conference on the future of disputed Trieste.

Previously foreign diplomatic sources had indicated that Italy's assent to the conference proposal had been taken into consideration by the Allies and the Allies' suggestion for a five-power conference was accepted."

In Belgrade, the official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said yesterday that the conditional acceptance attributed earlier to Italy appeared to be along lines laid down previously by Rome Tanjug said any proposal for a conference taking for granted that part of the territory would be turned over to Italy was "completely unacceptable" to President Tito's government.

Tax Probers Would Drop 64 District Offices

WASHINGTON (AP) — House tax fraud investigators, tacitly admitting they expect political opposition, have recommended eliminating some of the 64 federal district tax collection offices.

The House Ways and Means subcommittee, in a third of a series of reports yesterday, said the recent reorganization of the Internal Revenue Service was "a major accomplishment"

But it said the plan, submitted by then President Truman in 1951 when tax scandals shook the bureau, was "evidently drafted in haste" As a result there were imperfections, it said, adding, "There is little need for 64 such offices."

The reorganization, approved in 1952, decentralized authority, abolished the politically appointed offices of revenue collector and created non-political offices of district collector under 17 regional administrators—later reduced to nine in the Eisenhower administration.

Congressional approval came after many members of Congress raised objections to any step which would deprive them of a local revenue headquarters There is at least one district collection office in each state, with some states having several.

One Army source pointed out that "crimes such as this against children are very rare in Japan." It was a veiled indication that investigators may be searching for an American youth or man as the killer.

A former Japanese houseboy in the Rothschild home was picked up by CID agents in the housing area Saturday night and questioned until about noon yesterday. Then, the Army said, he was released after establishing an alibi which was considered "virtually airtight."

Believe Killer Knew Her

One theory of investigators was that Susan was killed by someone she knew and trusted. They pointed out that her bicycle was found upright on its own parking stand about 100 feet down the path from where her body was found.

They believed it possible that she got off the bicycle, parked it, and then walked down the path with the killer Investigators admitted, however, that it was possible that the killer may have set up the bicycle.

Mrs Rothschild was confined to her bed today and both parents were described as "completely broken up by the tragedy."

Three Marion Residents Hurt In Auto Crash

O'Neill Ruling Asked in Race Board Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Racing Commission chairman said today he will ask the attorney general to referee a dispute over the state's authority to hire stewards to supervise horse racing at the expense of tracks.

Chairman Zolton Gombos of Cleveland said in a letter to State Auditor James A. Rhodes that he would ask Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill to rule on the question.

Gombos previously told Rhodes he had been informed state law permitted the commission to assign only one steward to a track at pay far below that of stewards hired by tracks but licensed by the commission.

Rhodes contended Gombos had authority to assign more than one steward to tracks so that racing and pari-mutuel betting sanctioned by the state would be more difficult for racketeers to infiltrate.

Gombos said if the law prevents more than one state steward at a track, he would ask the emergency board for a grant to hire special investigators "to keep the tracks free from undesirable elements." He urged Rhodes' support for such a request. Rhodes is a member of the board.

The commission has scheduled a hearing Dec. 8 on proposed changes in racing regulations.

Eastern Airlines Is First To Utilize New-Type Engine

NEW YORK (AP) — Eastern Air Lines today inaugurates the nation's first plane service with turbocompound engines, scheduling two flights from New York to Miami.

Eddie Rickenbacker, Eastern chairman, said in a Washington news conference yesterday that 88-passenger Lockheed Super-C Constellations will make the nonstop flights in 3¾ hours.

The Super-C Constellation and the new Douglas Dc7s are equipped with the same Wright turbocompound engines—conventional piston engines fitted with turbines. Exhaust gases turn these turbines and contribute 20 per cent more power without increasing fuel consumption.

American Airlines will introduce the Douglas DC7s in regular service later this month, flying nonstop between New York and Los Angeles.

troops tied down indefinitely in Europe. But he said he recognizes that Western European nations want some assurance that this country is standing firmly behind the European army project.

Says Commitment Needed

"We need the European Defense Community and until Western European rearmament can be completed and its security forces completed, I believe we will have to make some commitments," he said.

Humphrey said he wasn't contending that any specified number of U S. divisions should be kept abroad. He said new weapons coming off the assembly lines should permit re-evaluation of the size of the forces later on.

This was the tack taken by Secretary of Defense Wilson when he said recently that an eventual reduction of U S forces abroad might be in sight. Wilson's statement caused such a furor abroad that President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles made reassuring statements that there are no plans for such a reduction Wilson thereupon said he was not talking about the present—but of sometime in the future.

The Army-Navy-Air Force Journal, an unofficial publication, said in its edition published Saturday that a 10 per cent cut in military manpower is under discussion at the Pentagon. The proposal, it said, would save at least a billion dollars in direct personnel costs plus hundreds of millions more in facilities and equipment.

Man Stopped Here On Traffic Arrest Held in Car Theft

What started out to be a routine traffic arrest by a Marion policeman Friday turned out to be the undoing for a Virginia man and and his teen-age companion who were charged with the theft of an automobile from Indianapolis, Ind.

Patolman Floyd Wilson stopped Douglas Warren Dailey, 21, of Almira, Va, at 11:15 a.m. Saturday because of an open muffler on Dailey's car

Papers on Daile,'s person which indicated he had recently bought the car he was driving in Michigan, aroused the suspicion of the patrolman.

Police continued their investigation and leaned that Dailey had traded a 1953 car stolen from Indianapolis for the car he was driving when arrested.

Indianapolis authorities were contacted and an affidavit signed by Violet Brouillette of Indianapolis charging Dailey with the theft of the car was sent to Marion police

Police Chief Tom Coon said today that Dailey has waived extradition to Indiana to face the auto theft charges and will be returned there by Indianapolis authorities.

The 16-year-old boy arrested with Dailey is also from Almira, Va. and is being held in the Marion County detention home on similar charges.

Rep. Polk Says 'Hard Money' Policy Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration's "hard money" policy is causing complaints among downstate Ohio businessmen, Rep Polk (D-Ohio) said today.

This policy, Polk told a reporter, has resulted in increased interest rates and has made it harder for businessmen to sell goods on installment.

Polk, a farmer and a member of the House Agriculture Committee, said a large percentage of the farmers in his district in southern Ohio generally vote Republican.

"But I don't think the Republicens would have done so well if the congressional election had been held in the last few months," he continued.

"Just what will happen to the farm vote next year depends, of course, on what kind of a farm program the administration has

"I think that if the administration doesn't come up with a satisfactory substitute there is a good possibility that the present program will be extended two more years.

This could happen, he added, in spite of the fact that Secretary of Agriculture Benson said in a speech the other day that the existing program is a "monstrosity."

Polk won the congressional election in Ohio last fall, defeating Leo Blackburn, Republican and former state senator.

Asked if he thought the Republicans would use the Harry Dexter White-Communists in government as an issue next year, Polk answered in the affirmative.

"It's really the only issue they've got," he said "But I don't think it will help them' With all due respect to Adlai Stevenson, Harry Truman still is the leader of the Democratic party.

"So the Republicans are trying to get at Truman Personally, I think Truman's popularity right now is high."

ACROSS THE COUNTER

As I was presenting the need for an owner's liability policy recently Mr. White asked, "Why is property damage necessary? My building isn't like a car. It's not going to collide with another. I can see that I should be protected if a person gets hurt on the premises. But, I can't picture this building doing damage to someone else's property."

Earl J. Andrews

"It might seem unlikely," I said, "but let me give you a few examples. Suppose you had a fire, due to your negligence, and the flames spread to adjoining buildings. Or, suppose you had a bad explosion. It might severely damage buildings or cars nearby. And I've heard of cases where an explosion caused plate glass windows to break for blocks around. Or, suppose the tenant asks you to fix the roof. You agree, but put it off. In the meanwhile, during a severe rain storm, the roof leak causes damage to merchandise below. These show some of the possibilities."

Mr. White pondered. "I can see the importance of the property damage. Go ahead on the Owner's Liability Policy as you have it set up."

These Days

By George Sokolsky

The various spy groups, organized in this country, were enormously effective and accomplished more than we know. The following is an attempt to bring together a list of their achievements:

SOKOLSKY

1. The Rosenberg ring stole the atom bomb and infiltrated scientific agencies of the armed forces engaged in experimental work. Rosenberg personally stole a proximity fuse. He organized a capable group of agents at the signal corps station at Astoria, L I and at Ft. Monmouth in New Jersey. This group stole our radar developments for Soviet Russia.

Julius Rosenberg must have been more important than we yet know because the Ft. Monmouth investigation indicates that his work was widely distributed over the country and reached into private industries manufacturing essential war materials.

2. Amtorg, set up as a trading company, was a cover for economic espionage, the extent of which is not yet fully disclosed. Enough is known, however, to confirm the suspicion that Amtorg took advantage of the friendliness of American business houses to a customer to obtain production plans.

3. The policy of the State Department, particularly as to China, came under the control of the Institute of Pacific Relations, which was used by an espionage group as a base for activities. This group, of which Alger Hiss and Lauchlin Currie were effectives, was dominated by Edward C. Carter and Frederick Vanderbilt Field. It corralled a number of capable American writers who, by placing many articles in American magazines and writing what seemed to be authoritative books, established an atmosphere, particularly in the State Department, favorable to Communist China. Owen Lattimore, now under indictment, was one of the leading experts projected before the American people by the Institute of Pacific Relations. During the periods when George Marshall and Dean Acheson were in charge of the State Department, the Institute group dominated American policy.

4. Alger Hiss worked his way up into high echelons in the State Department, being President Roosevelt's expert at Yalta where all the decisions were favorable to Soviet Russia. He was the principal American official in charge of the San Francisco Conference where the Charter of the United Nations was prepared.

5. The OWI, the American propaganda agency during World War II, contained an effective pro-communist cell. Agencies serving the OWI consisted of European so-called experts, many of whom were Communists.

Joseph Barnes, named several times as a Communist in congressional committee hearings, was in charge of the New York office.

6. The International Information, which includes the Voice of America, was penetrated deeply by Communists, pro-communists and pro-Russians. Investigations by congressional committees produced evidence of such infiltraton. The cleaning-out job in this agency has not been done satisfactorily.

7. Books, pamphlets, lecture courses, prepared for troops abroad during World War II, and even current indoctrination courses prepared for military officers, have been slanted favorably toward the Russian point of view. As recently as January, 1952, the General Headquarters of the United Nations and the Far East Command, Military Intelligence Section, issued a book to indoctrinate intelligence officers entitled "Psychological and Cultural Traits of Soviet Siberia." This is definitely a communist book, designed to "brain-wash" American officers. Testimony concerning it developed in closed hearings before the McCarthy committee. It is here cited as an example of a continuing process.

8. The White House staff was infiltrated by the presence of Lauchlin Currie and Michael Greenberg when Roosevelt was President. Lauchlin Currie played a signal role in the formation of the China policy and in placing Communists, pro-communists and their allies in various agencies of government. The role of David K. Niles, often discussed but never quite established by public evidence, must be mentioned in passing.

9. The hearings before the Jenner Committee, during which Attorney General Brownell and FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover testified, established the existence of an espionage ring in the Treasury headed by Harry Dexter White. This was a section of an espionage apparatus headed by Nathan Gregory Silvermaster.

Similar groups existed in the Department of Agriculture in the AAA, the National Labor Relations Board, the Department of Commerce and other agencies of government.

This is the beginning of the evidence.

THE U.S. NAVY'S new 1,200,000-watt transmitter, which can beam radio messages to any spot in the world, is put in operation at Jim Creek, Wash., with Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, RCA board chairman, at the key and Chief of Naval Operations Adm. Robert B. Carney dictating the message. The "Big Jim" transmitter has more than twice the power of any other, can boom clear signals through atmospheric and magnetic disturbances that can drown out less powerful transmissions. A message through it can reach U.S. ships anywhere.

Panel Discussion Held At School PTA Meeting

A panel dsicussion on "Your Child and TV, Comics, Radio and Movies" highlighted a recent meeting of the Oak Street School PTA held at the school. Moderator was Mrs. Clark Fouts, and members of the panel were Mr. Robert McCombs, Mrs. T. Earl Davis, Mrs. William McFarland and Charles Harmon.

The meeting was opened with the pledge to the flag and devotions were in charge of Mrs. Donna Smith, first grade teacher. Group singing was led by Donald Farrar, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Nancy Ballinger. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

CLEVELAND

When the "Little Red-head," Walter Reuther, replaced the revered Philip Murray as head of the CIO just a year ago, there were those who predicted that CIO would never again hold a convention.

RIESEL

Well, CIO has not only been held together by the whirlwindish young leader, but has put on almost half a million new members. It has just warned all other powerful labor federations to stop trying to cut it up. And it has hammered together the only political machine which can challenge the Republicans in scores of states this coming year.

Behind the scenes here it is no secret that President Eisenhower has been trying to soften this political bloc. His Secretary of Labor, James Mitchell, has been consulting with CIO leaders on appointments— and has been heeding them more than he has the so-called "Taft wing" of the Republican party.

The flying visits of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Mitchell to this 15th constitutional convention of CIO were further evidence of the respect for this CIO machine which is being wooed by such Democratic Presidential hopefuls as Michigan's Gov. Mennen Williams and Minnesota's Sen. Robert Humphrey.

BUT IT IS obvious from the bitter reactions to both Dulles' and Mitchell's speeches that nothing can ease the CIO Political Action Committee's hatred for the GOP administration. And this hatred is being turned into real political action right now.

The CIO has just launched a drive for a dollar a man from the 4,400,000 to 5,000,000 members —which can give it a multi-million dollar budget matching the actual expenditures of the major political committees.

The CIO political leaders report that they have built the base for a powerful ward-by-ward campaign machine by electing over 1,000 CIO members as "either mayors, in some towns, or aldermen and councilmen—and, yes, "We even got a tax collector elected over in Pennsylvania."

THIS POLITICAL phenomenon has gone unnoticed in the weeks since election—obscured by the major headlines on breaking racket and spy stories. But never before has a labor federation been able to put over 1,000 of its own members—in addition to those it sponsored successfully, such as New Jersey's Governor-elect Robert Meyner.

In reporting this, the CIO's political director, Jack Kroll, said:

"To me the most significant thing that has happened in these elections has been this—in Pennsylvania, in the state of Ohio, in Connecticut, and scattering all through America, you have found that the Political Action Committees are operating where none had operated before. . . .In 1953 you probably saw more political action on the part of the CIO than ever before and, more than that, what you say, was this—you saw our people get more steadily into politics, they conducted themselves like veterans, and they did a magnificent job. . . It is a good omen for 1954."

THEN HE bluntly warned the Republican party that CIO could lick it in '54 when it will not have Gen. Eisenhower personally at the head of the ticket. "I have been in the men's tailoring industry a long time, and I like to pride myself sometimes that I am a fairly good judge of men's fashions.

"I have been in politics a little while, and I would like to make a political fashion observation at this time; I would like to say to the men in America that coattails will be completely out of style in 1954."

The CIO sees the 1954 election as the real showdown with the Republican party. If the Democrats lose then, they expect the New Deal and the Fair Deal will be wiped out as a political machine. That's why the labor leaders want the rough and tumble to start now. That's why they are beginning to grumble over what they refer to as the gentle quiet and "failure to show leadership" of Adlai Stevenson. That's why they've raced to Harry Truman's side. That's why there are predictions here that Stevenson will be pushed aside for such men as Sen. Humphrey and Gov. Williams.

THAT'S WHY, for example, they are planning a series of regional conferences of working women and homemakers "to integrate the family voter into the CIO political action program" and why they have urged that every CIO union council assign a staff member the "specific responsiblity" of getting out the "family voters." Not a vote is being overlooked.

That's why the showdown next year will be between the Republican party and what is really a labor party operating within the shell of the northern Democratic party.

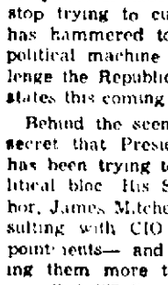
Lucky?

By Laura Hobson

Sir Adrian Ivor Dunbar is a lucky man. Not because he, a Maryland farmer, suddenly inherited a title, a forty-room castle dairy farms on 3400 acres in Scotland, though most of us wouldn't call that exactly unlucky either.



HOBSON

What makes me call him lucky was his reaction to the shock waiting for him on the dock at Southampton, where British newsmen handed him enlarged photographs of his weed - choked, dilapidated place, showing all too many signs of the beating it took as a commando billet during the war.

—:—

SIR ADRIAN was dismayed, even staggered, as who wouldn't be, after pulling up stakes and traveling thousands of miles to a dream castle?

This sixty - year - old, naturalized American citizen turned baronet has a capacity to absorb disappointment that most people don't have at any age.

"I've got experience repairing houses," he said almost at once. "I'll know how to do it."

And last Tuesday when he and his wife arrived on the ancestral doorstep, only to find the caretaker gone and the place locked tight against them, they absorbed that too. They went peering through windows, the way house-renters do when the real estate agent's key turns out to be the wrong one.

"To restore it right," he said after touring the place, "would take a couple of million dollars, but I'll try to repair it. Mom's less apprehensive, now she's seen it. I'm good for another thirty years, it's in better shape than we expected, and I'm thrilled."

SO SIR ADRIAN and his lady prepared to live for awhile in a small stone cottage without gas, electricity, or water, and even to "do a little milking and haying for their neighbors." His own "tenant farmers" staged a large welcome party for them the night after their arrival, and have already taken these strangers to their dour Scottish hearts.

As well they might. Compare the Dunbar story with the self-pity most of us secretly indulge in when something goes askew even in our minor plans and hopes.

Let a vacation cruise turn out to be a bore, for example, and our petulant cries and complaints follow the ship like a white whimpering wake.

LET A NEW SOFA look funny when it comes from the store, let th new permanent be too frizy All too often, whether concealed or open, tantrums of inner rage are the result.

And lest that paragraph makes any male reader feel smug, consider the fellow who doesn't get the promotion or raise at office or store, the guy who eyes the fancy eight-cyclinder job but has to settle for the six, and the man who planned to retire at 65 and go live in Florida or California, only to discover he has to go on working some more. What is the masculine for "tantrum"?

So my tam-o-shanter's off to Sir Adrian Ivor Dunbar. He has five years, he says, to decide whether to come back and go on as a naturalized American, or stay over there for good.

Whatever he decides, I wish him well. Somewhere in his make-up is the understanding that life is bigger than raises and permanents and cars and castles.

My own guess is that he's one of the people who know that working hard and long for something you believe in, is a kind of castle all by itself. That's why I call him lucky.

Tornado Rips Florida Town

21 Injured, 6 Homes Leveled in Woodville

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP)—Residents of Woodville, a small northwest Florida community, cleared up debris today after a roaring Sunday morning tornado which smashed six homes and left 21 injured.

Another twister ripped across two south Louisiana parishes (counties) a few hours earlier, destroying 26 homes and injuring one person.

Most of Woodville's 100 residents were at home when the storm hit at 8:40 a.m.

Many of those whose homes were leveled by the Louisiana twister escaped injury because they were attending a church fair. The narrow twister raced across Lafayette and St. Martin parishes, striking heaviest near Broussard, a small farming town.

Pumpkin Pie the Best Thanksgiving Dessert

Traditional finish for the Thanksgiving feast is pumpkin pie, and in many families traditional recipes for this meal are passed along from generation to generation.

Though you may have one of these old recipes, you'll like this new one for its economy. It produces a pie with all the spicy goodness and custard consistency of the old favorite while using only one egg. Use:

2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
2-3 cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon nutmeg
1½ cups mashed cooked pumpkin
1 egg, well beaten
1½ cups milk
1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt, spices and pumpkin; mix well. Add egg and milk and blend well. Turn filling into unbaked pie shell. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 1 hour, or until done. (Pie is done when a knife inserted near the edge of filling comes out clean. The center will be soft but will continue cooking after pie is remove from oven.) Serve warm or cool to room temperature. Garnish with whipped cream, if desired.

Charge Denied By Air Force

Negro Officer Released For Budget Reasons

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force says it is dismissing a Philadelphia Negro along with 6,500 other airmen because of budgetary limitations—not because he refused to sit in a segregated section of a Southern bus.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) cited the case of Lt. Thomas Williams of Philadelphia in charging the Air Force is reprimanding Negro officers who ignore "Southern Jim Crow practices."

Clarence Mitchell, NAACP director here, said in a statement yesterday that this amounts to disobedience of Supreme Court decisions outlawing segregation in interstate travel.

But an Air Force spokesman said last night the bus incident had nothing to do with Williams' dismissal. The spokesman said he was among 6,500 airmen being let out because of budget cuts. He said the 6,500 were chosen because it was felt their release would least disrupt the effectiveness of the Air Force.

Mitchell said Williams, a pilot in training at Craig Air Force Base, Ala., refused to sit in a segregated section of a bus en route from Florida to Alabama.

He said Williams' dismissal was approved at a Pentagon meeting last Thursday despite a request by the NAACP for a review.

Garner Brings Venison Home on 85th Birthday

UVALDE, Tex. (AP)—Former Vice President John Nance (Cactus Jack) Garner, a white-haired sprightly old Democrat, clumped into his home from his 85th birthday deer hunt yesterday, stuffed himself with fresh venison, then got in bed for an afternoon snooze.

Garner wouldn't say whether he shot the deer himself. For 35 years he and Uvalde auto dealer Ross Brumfield have made the birthday hunt at a secret spot in southwest Texas hill country near here.

But Garner said to Uvalde newspaperman J. A. Scarborough: I've had the best dinner today that I've ever eaten."

Garner waved a hand toward a quarter of venison still on a table and sisted Scarborough take some with him.

Then, indicating he was ready for his daily siesta, he said, "I'm going to bed when you leave."

Cabbie in St. Louis Finds Bracelet Not Costume Jewelry

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Taxi driver Joseph Koser found a bracelet wedged between the side and back seat of his cab.

He took it home and tossed it in a dresser drawer. Mrs. Koser wore it around the house while cleaning, both thinking it was a piece of costume jewelry.

But yesterday Koser read a newspaper story about the loss of a $10,000 platinum and diamond bracelet. He called the owner, Mrs. Albert Greenburg of Tulsa, Okla., who identified the bracelet and gave Koser a $100 reward.

"I can sure use the money," Koser said. "Santa Claus will get it." He was off work seven weeks in a cab strike here.

Galion Official Sets Ban on Water Use

GALION — It will have to rain for several days with heavy showers before the water shortage here will be relieved to any extent, is the opinion of R. W. Barkley, superintendent of utilities The ground is so hard that it will have to become softened considerable before water will run off, he said.

An absolute ban on automobile washing was issued by Service Director J A Anker Friday. He also asked that householders, business and industry use water sparingly correct leaks in faucets and pipes, and eliminate non-essential use of water

Amann reservoir was at eight feet, eight inches Monday, and other water resources also reached a low level.

Wells in Heise Park the Hill well north of West Church Street spring well at North Jefferson Street bridge, two dug wells at the pumping plant on West Church and the West Railroad street well, are being pumped, with 75 per cent of the amount of water being used from these sources.

President of OSU Fraternity Victim Of Pledge Prank

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The president of an Ohio State University fraternity was back on the campus today after a weekend prank of fraternity pledges left him bound and gagged on a Putnam County road.

Roy A. West, 21, of Elyria, president of Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity at Ohio State, was the victim of the fraternity pledges' annual "ditch" night Saturday.

Sheriff Arnold Potts of Putnam County quoted West as saying he had been bound and gagged by six fraternity members, taken to Putnam County and put out of an automobile. The sheriff loaned him money to return to Columbus.

While Ohio State authorities frown on such fraternity practices, the "ditch" night is an annual affair of the Pi Kappas, in which pledges usually select an officer of the chapter for the "ditching" procedure.

Question of Hiss' Parole Comes Up Again This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alger Hiss' application for parole from Lewisburg (Pa.) Federal Prison comes up before the U S Parole Board again this week, possibly today or tomorrow.

Under board procedure, the application—turned down when first considered last November — automatically reappears on the agenda for a further look one year later.

Hiss, 48, one-time State Department official, has now served 2 years and 8 months of the 5-year sentence given him on a perjury conviction in early 1950. The conviction was based on his denials to a grand jury that he had ever turned over government secrets to Whittaker Chambers, admitted Soviet espionage agent, as Chambers charged.

Vote Reported Heavy In Yugoslavian Election

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — Officials today tallied the heavy vote in Yugoslavia's country-wide elections, but final returns will not be announced until Wednesday. President Tito's Communist regime was a certain winner.

Tito's "Socialist Alliance of the Working People of Yugoslavia" faced no opposition parties in yesterday's balloting. Of the 352 seats in the new Parliament's Federal Council, less than 20 were contested by opposing members of the alliance.

President to be Honored By Jewish Brotherhood

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will receive an award for "enrichment of America's heritage of freedom" when he speaks tonight at the 40th anniversary dinner of the Anti-Defamation League of B'Nai B'Rith.

The presentation by League President Henry Edward Schultz of New York will climax a four-day meeting and, along with Eisenhower's speech, will be nationally televised (CBS direct, 7 p.m., EST, with kinescopes later).

THANKSGIVING VALUES!

"We have so much to be Thankful for . . ."

There was plenty for all . . . Only when men were FREE to work for themselves . . .

The early Pilgrims nearly starved to death. For two long years they suffered with never enough food in the colony's storehouse. The Governor had complete control of the land and what people produced. They tried every way possible to have the people raise more grain but the people complained that they were too weak to raise food. All were religious but were so hungry that they stole from their neighbors. Young men complained that they had to work hard to feed other men and women. Strong men that were the heads of families griped that even though they worked hard that their families received no more than those that were unwilling or unable to work.

Women rebelled when ordered to cook and sew for men that were not their husbands. The men growled that their wives were little better than slaves and wouldn't permit them to work. Months of bitter complaints until the Governor decided that they were making a serious mistake and that they had thought themselves wiser than God.

And so in 1623 they gave each family a parcel of land for their very own to raise their crops as each family saw fit.

Then what a change took place. Even the women went into the fields, taking their children along with them. All men, women and children planted as much corn as they thought they could possibly work.

People that formerly complained that they were too weak to dig or hoe, declaring that it was tyranny to make them undertake field work, gladly undertook to plant and cultivate for themselves.

And so when the harvest was in, instead of famine, they had plenty. And so they all gave thanks to God and what a Thanksgiving they celebrated. It's been many years since that fall of 1623, but the truths that have come down to us through the years are just as solid today as then. Only when men were free to work for themselves and produce plenty did everyone benefit. To be free to work for ourselves is truly one of the real blessings that we have had handed down through these many years. May this Thanksgiving of 1953 fill us all with the humility of many things to be thankful for. For all of our customers, we wish a Thanksgiving with plenty for all.

Bus Co. Heads Say No Strike Notice Is Filed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Pennsylvania Greyhound bus officials say they have no notice of a strike which a union leader announced for Wednesday morning.

But William Arthur of Columbus, chairman of the union's Executive Council, said "they know all right."

Arthur announced yesterday some 2,000 drivers and maintenance and terminal workers will strike throughout the system which operates in Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Washington, D. C.

The union leader said the executive council called the strike after union and company officials failed to agree in a two-day session with a federal conciliator last week.

According to Arthur, the union went to the meeting with demands "pared. . . to a minimum in an effort to secure a contract."

The company had offered a wage increase equivalent to 8 cents hourly, with increases of 4 cents hourly each year for 3 years, Arthur said. He did not give an exact figure for the union demand but said it "wasn't a great deal more" than the company offer.

It is estimated that it takes cotton grown on 558,000 acres of land to produce upholstery, brake linings, timing gears and other things for a million cars.

Spanish War Veterans Hold Dinner Meeting

State officers were among the guests joining Marion Camp No 32, United Spanish War Veterans and Betsy Ross Tent No. 14, for their annual Thanksgiving dinner and meeting Friday in the Grotto Hall.

At this time the annual inspection of the camp was conducted by Dale Shields of Forest, department commander. In commenting on the work of the camp and auxiliary the commander stated that both were widely known throughout the state for their outstanding activities locally and in the district and state, and also complimented Elmer R. Bondley who is department historian.

Covers were placed for 50 at the dinner. Guests included Department Commander Shields, A. W Martin, senior vice commander, George Rakestraw, department adjutant, and Mrs. Rakestraw, J. Cunningham all of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. E. Wells of Mt. Vernon; T H. Banks of the Soldiers Home at Sandusky; Mrs. Ada Critton of Lancaster.

Adjutant Rakestraw gave a eulogy on the late Judge Edward Mathias of Columbus, chairman of the national legislative committee

Mrs. Hattie Richards, chaplain, conducted the devotions for the opening of the auxiliary meeting. Contributions were made to the Christmas fund for the Ohio Soldiers and Sailors Home at Xenia and Boystown at Smithville, and a magazine subscription was sponsored for the veterans' hospital at Brecksville. It was voted to send a box to the Xenia home for the emergency shelf and instead of the annual gift exchange at Christmastime to give money for a local holiday project.

Both organizations will meet Dec. 18 at which time election of officers will be held. A Christmas dinner will be served at noon.

Also at the meeting, new uniforms for the high school were ordered. The band plans to make its initial appearance in the new uniforms at the annual high school Christmas vesper service Sunday, Dec. 20 at 2 30 p.m. in the school auditorium. Barons Nip League-Leading Cincinnati Skaters 2-1

3,452 Fans Watch Marion Take Defensive Struggle

Marion's rampaging Barons notched a 2-1 win over the league-leading Cincinnati Mohawks Sunday afternoon at the Coliseum rink. It was the fifth win in the last six games for the Barons.

The second biggest crowd of the International League season here, 3,452, watched the action. The win left the Barons in a tie for fifth place but left them only three points out of second place and seven behind the league leaders.

LaRue Honored

LaRue was honored at the Sunday afternoon game. The LaRue High School band, along with one from Delaware Wills High School, entertained during the intermissions. Mrs. Estelle Armstrong, mayor of LaRue, dropped the puck for the opening faceoff. She was introduced as the only woman mayor in Ohio.

Marion fans received their first look at the Barons' tightened defense. Dutch Del Monte and Phil Vitale were both making their first appearance on the home ice.

Tighter Defense

Actually the score failed to tell the story. The Barons were the better team in all departmenst. They outskated and outpassed the Mohawks and their defense was much tighter. The Cincinnati goalie, Charlie Hodge, tabbed by many as the No. 1 goal tender in the league, was the only reason for the close score.

Time after time, Hodge batted away shots by Baron attackers after they had broken through the Mohawks' back line. At the same time, the Marion defensemen managed to bottle up the Mohawks' front line for the first two periods.

After a scoreless first period which saw the Barons thwarted in 11 shots at the goal, the Marion speed began taking its toll on the Cincinnati visitors. Tony Poeta, one of three newcomers to the local club, broke the scoring ice after 14:08 of the second period. He broke loose at center ice and belted the disc past Hodge. Hal Jones received an assist on the play after he stole the rubber from a Mohawk defenseman. The rest of the second period was a battle of the goalies. Lou Crowdis batted away nine Mohawk attempts while Hodge deflected 14 Marion shots.

Hal Jones and Ken Schultz teamed up early in the third period to put the verdict on ice. Schultz passed off to Jones in front of the goal and Jones blasted the puck into the net past a lunging Hodge. The goal was scored after only 34 seconds of the final frame had passed.

Score in Third Period

The Mohawks' only goal came after 4:37 of the third period. Duke Edmundson finally managed to get the disc past Crowdis. He took a relay from Bill Pawchuck for the score.

The game was played with only four penalties called. Two were called against each team and all were minor infractions. Crowdis, who was injured in the final period, ended the game with 34 saves. Hodge had 31.

The Marion goalie was hurt on the only score by the Mohawks. He had knocked out a shot by the Mohawks' Pawchuck and when the disc hit a Marion player and fell in front of the goal he lunged to cover it. In the scramble, the goal was scored and he was raked with a skate. His eye was treated by Trainer Jack Boag and he remained in action. After the game, Lou said his eye was twitching. However, the injury was not thought too serious.

String Snapped

The loss to the Barons was the first suffered by the Cincinnati squad since Milwaukee notched a 5-4 win on Oct. 25. Only other blemish since that time was a 2-2 tie with Fort Wayne on Nov. 10.

Girls' Tag Match Booked at Armory

Scottie Williams and Billy Fox will be matched in the main bout of Thursday night's wrestling card at the armory.

Williams will be defending the title he won here a month ago in a bout with Fox. He has consented to give Fox a chance to regain the belt.

Joyce Ford and Barbara Baker will tangle with Cora Combs and Bonnie Watson in a girls' tag team bout. Both the feature bouts will be for two out of three falls over a 60-minute time limit.

Ricky Waldo and Sandro Fozo are paired for the 30-minute opening bout at 8:30. Promoter Les Fishbaugh said Cowboy Curry will referee all the bouts.

Prexy Gridders To Hear Talk By Parseghian

Ara Parseghian, head football coach at Miami University, will be the principal speaker Dec. 3 at the annual banquet honoring the Harding High School football squad.

The honorary co-captains of the team will be announced at the banquet to be held at the high school.

The banquet will wind up one of Harding's most successful seasons on the gridiron in recent years. The Prexies finished with a 6-2-1 season, finishing second in the Buckeye League and losing only to ninth-rated Fremont and Columbus Central.

Season Opened, Hunters Move To Ohio Fields

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A half-million hunters were expected in the field today for the opening of Ohio's small-game hunting season. The season had been delayed a week for the first time in history because of fire hazard.

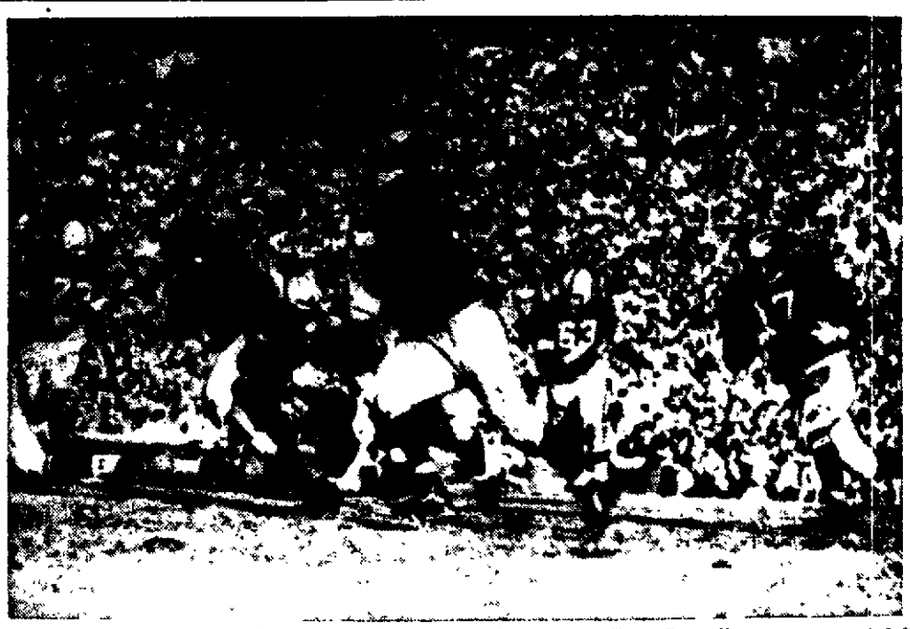
Hunting season on pheasant, partridge, grouse and rabbits opened officially at 9 a.m. Shooting hours are from 9 to 5 each day, with no hunting allowed on Sundays.

Dr. Charles A. Dambach, chief of the state's division of wildlife, gave hunters the go-ahead yesterday when rains swept eastward over the entire state minimizing chances of fire.

Daily bag limits: Rabbits 4, cock pheasants 2, grouse 3, and Hungarian partridge 2. Four rabbits are allowed in possession after the first day. Possession limit on birds is twice the bag limit after opening day.

The rabbit and grouse seasons continue through Jan. 1. The pheasant and partridge seasons end at 5 p.m. Dec. 5.

Dambach issued some reminders to the Ohio hunters: It is unlawful to shoot within 400 feet of any division of wildlife propagation pen or any building or recreation area on state hunting preserves. It is unlawful to shoot on, from or across a road.



MICHIGAN DROPS OHIO STATE, 20-0. Fleet Wolverine halfback Tony Branoff sweeps around left end for a first down in a one-sided contest which saw favored Ohio State stopped cold by a hard-driving Michigan eleven. Ninty-one thousand persons, the largest collegiate football crowd of the season, saw the Wolverines rack up three touchdowns to defeat the Buckeyes 20-0 at Ann Arbor.

Mexican Race Near End; Toll Reported at 7

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Drivers in Mexico's fastest Pan-American Road Race entered the final lap today, from Chihuahua to Ciudad Juarez, with only one leader in the four divisions holding a big lead.

Only 64 of the original 177 starters set out on the home stretch. The 1,912-mile race got under way last Thursday near the Guatemalan border.

Hans Hartman, German champion driving a Borgward, carried a 19-minute margin in the small sports class over his nearest competitor, Jaroslav Juhan of Guatemala, into the final 222.5 miles.

Leaders in the other three divisions managed to stay on top but all lost some ground.

Chuck Stevenson of Milwaukee, driving a Lincoln, watched teammate Walt Faulkner of Long Beach, Calif., whittle is seven-minute advantage down to less than four in the large stock car class.

In the big sports car class, Italy's Piero Piero Taruffi narrowed the lead of Argentina's Manuel Fangio from 10 minutes to less than nine. Both drive Lancias.

The first-place margin of C. D. Evans, El Paso, Tex., was trimmed from seven minutes to six in the small stock car division by Norman Patterson, a fellow El Paso driver. Evans is driving a Chevrolet. Patterson a Ford.

No accidents were reported during yesterday's laps, for the first perfect day since the grueling test began. To date seven persons—three drivers and four spectators—have been killed.

Per capita beef consumption in the United States rose from 55 pounds in 1951 to an estimated record of 75 pounds in 1953.

Harding Cagers Begin Action Wednesday; To Open New Gym

The new Harding High School gym will be dedicated Wednesday night in a brief ceremony before Harding's basketball opener with Bexley.

According to Athletic Coordinator Kenneth Somerlot, the program is now being arranged and steps are being taken to keep it brief.

Under the seating arrangement in the new gym, both teams and the scoring bench will be located on the north side.

The east end of the north side bleachers will be set aside for Harding students and the west end for visiting students and adults.

Another block of Harding students will be located at the east end of the south side bleachers with the west end being set aside for adults.

The band will sit on the stage for the opening game.

Four ticket windows will be open. The two on the north side will be for students. One of the south-side offices will be for adults only, the other for family tickets.

General admission prices for Wednesday's game are 75 cents for adults, 35 cents for students.

OSU's Bob Watkins Bates Tie for Lead

CHICAGO (AP)—A couple of hard-hitting halfbacks, Mickey Bates of Illinois and Bob Watkins of Ohio State tied for the Big Ten individual 1953 scoring crown.

A final tabulation following the conference's closing games Saturday showed each had scored 66 points on 11 touchdowns. Neither scored in the respective finales of their teams.

Dusty Rice of Iowa was in third place with 60 while Paul Giel of Minnesota was fourth with 54.

The Lions combined two touchdown passes by Layne—one an 83-yard play involving Doak Walker and the second a 22-yarder to Leon Hart—with Yale Lary's three pass interceptions in the final period to defeat the Packers.

Faculty Members Edge Police 51-42

The School Masters won their second victory over the police, walking off with a 51-42 decision Friday night at the Y.

Vic Gillis of the Erie police was the high scorer with 17 points. Don Baggs tallied 11 for the teachers.

The teachers' next scheduled game is in January when they will meet a team composed of members of the fire and police departments. A preliminary game on the same bill will match a team of women teachers against women members of the PTA.

Steelers Fall; Thompson Lost To Leg Injury

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleveland's unbeaten Browns, winner of nine games, can clinch the Eastern Conference title Sunday for their fifth divisional championship in the National Football League but the Western Conference race could well go right down to the final day of the season on Dec. 13.

The Browns moved within one victory of the title yesterday by edging the Pittsburgh Steelers 20-16 and there's nothing in the books to indicate they won't chalk up No. 10 at the expense of the winless Chicago Cardinals Sunday.

Detroit's Lions still held to a half-game lead over the Los Angeles Rams in the Western division after beating the Chicago Bears 20-16. The Rams stayed within striking distance with a 21-13 win over the Baltimore Colts. And the San Francisco 49ers remained only a game off the lead after downing the Green Bay Packers 37-7.

All three face what figures to be comparatively easy opposition this week. The Lions take on the Packers Thursday while the Rams meet the Chicago Bears and the 49ers tangle with the Colts at Baltimore.

Washington defeated the New York Giants 24-21 in the only game yesterday that had no bearing on the upper strata of the standings. On Saturday night the high-scoring Philadelphia Eagles won their sixth straight to retain a mathematical chance of catching the Browns. They defeated the Cardinals 38-0.

The Browns had a tussle with the Steelers but, as usual, combined the pitching arm of Otto Graham and Lou Groza's toe for victory. The veteran Cleveland quarterback tossed two touchdown passes—one for 54 yards to Ray Renfro and the other for 31 yards to Darrell Brewster—and Groza kicked two field goals.

The Cleveland Browns need to win once more to lock up their eighth straight pro football division championship, but they'll have to do it without their co-captain, middle linebacker Tommy Thompson.

Thompson's knee was dislocated in the first period of the Browns' 20-16 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers before 32,904 fans—near Forbes Field capacity—at Pittsburgh yesterday. Two long field goals by Lou (The Toe) Groza and two long passes by Otto Graham provided the points to make it nine triumphs in a row for the unbeaten Browns.

Now in Marymount Hospital, Thompson will undergo examinations for several days to determine the full extent of damage to his left knee. It was set on the field by Dr. Vic Ippolito who said the torn cartilege would sideline for at least three weeks the defensive star Coach Paul Brown calls "the best middle linebacker in the game."

The Steelers led the Browns 9-7 after the first quarter. They threatened to overcome a four-point deficit after marching 80 yards to a touchdown early in the fourth period, when halfback Ray Mathews went over from the one. And they outgained the Browns in net yards rushing 216 to 60 and had 17 first downs to Cleveland's 13.

The Browns scored on their second offensive play. Billy Reynolds returned a punt 11 yards and drove through guard for 9 to the Browns' 46. Then Ray Renfro dashed past Pittsburgh right halfback Tom Calvin to grab a Graham pass on the 15 and speed into the end zone.

The Steelers traveled 73 yards, 31 of them on a run by halfback Mathews to make a first-period touchdown on quarterback Jim Finks' sneak of 1 yard. They went ahead 9-7 on a first-quarter safety when Cleveland's Watren Lahr intercepted a pass by Finks and was downed by Mathews in the end zone.

Groza booted a 50-yard field goal in the second quarter and a 42-yarder in the third period. He now has 17 three-pointers in 20 attempts and needs only 3 more to break the National Football league field-goal record he set last season.

Lahr's second interception carried 36 yards to the Steelers' 34 and set up Cleveland's other touchdown. Graham hit end Pete Brewster with a 28-yard throw Brewster toted three yards more to give Cleveland a 17-9 halftime lead.

In the fourth quarter Pittsburgh moved to Cleveland's 43, but Mathews dropped a pass that would have meant first down and the Browns took the ball.

Graham completed 16 of 28 passes for a net gain of 175 yards—a performance slightly under his season average. Finks hit on 9 in 20 tries for 72.

The Lions came from behind for their victory with Doak Walker scoring one touchdown, kicking two field goals and adding the extra points after both tallies. Bobby Lane completed 21 passes out of 43 attempts for 241 yards.

Two pass interceptions by Johnny Williams set up last-period scores in the Redskins' triumph over the Giants.

Big Ten Picks Spartans

Rose, Orange Bowl Teams Selected; Others Undecided

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The fog—not the same one that has been plaguing the East for the past week—was beginning to lift ever so slightly today on the confused bowl picture. The Rose Bowl and Orange Bowl promoters were just about out of it.

But still fogbound were the Cotton Bowl and Sugar Bowl chieftains. They have plenty of teams from which to make their selections, but they didn't have the faintest notion of how to go about trimming the list of eligibles.

And while the promoters were scratching their heads, the coaches and players had plenty to mull over in the wake of Notre Dame's 14-14 tie with Iowa. There was no question that the Hawkeyes knocked the cloak of invincibility off the Irish.

But what of Notre Dame's tactics—or to use a better word, dramatics — that all but saved Frank Leahy's boys from defeat. First it was Frank Varrichone who caused an "injured player" time out with one second to go in the first half and the Irish behind. They promptly tied it. Then Art Hunter and Don Penza did the same thing with six seconds in the game left and the Irish trailing. Again they tied it.

Remember the postseason discussions about Notre Dame's "sucker shift" of last year, and its eventual demise by the Rules Committee? This one ought to cause even more post-mortems.

As for the bowls, the Rose will pit Michigan State against UCLA. The Uclans, champions of the Pacific Coast Conference, needed only the official ratification of the rest of the league to make it official. State was voted in last night at a Big Ten meeting. The Spartans wound up in a tie with Illinois for the league championship, each with a record of 5-1.

The first vote ended in a 5-5 deadlock, so Commissioner Tug Wilson called the faculty representatives to Chicago to discuss it and Michigan State, a freshman in the conference, emerged the winner.

The Orange Bowl will send Oklahoma, the Big Seven winner, against Maryland, which finished its season Saturday with a 21-0 victory over Alabama. The Terps are the only major undefeated-untied team in the country. As things stand, Duke and Maryland are tied for the leadership of the newly formed Atlantic Coast Conference, which sends its champion to the Orange Bowl.

But if a faculty vote is required, it is inconceivable that Maryland would not get the bid. Duke has been beaten twice and tied once and still must face North Carolina.

Cotton Bowl officials are being forced to wait for the end of the Southwest Conference season to determine the host team. Right now Baylor, Rice and Texas are tied for the lead, Baylor and Rice go at each other Saturday, so one will be eliminated.

Officials said they hoped to decide the visiting team within the next 48 hours. Georgia Tech has the inside track, although still up for consideration are Kentucky, West Virginia, Auburn, Alabama and Mississippi.

If Mississippi can get by Mississippi State, however, and wins the Southeastern Conference title, it probably will go to the Sugar Bowl against the second-place team in the Southwest Conference. If State wins, the Southeastern Conference champion would be decided by the Alabama-Auburn game Saturday. The Southeastern Conference victor usually plays in the Sugar Bowl.

As for the Notre Dame-Iowa State fracas, and the repercussions thereof, the coaches had to look at it one of two ways:

1. The Irish overstepped themselves and used plain skullduggery in their desperate (and successful) attempt to keep their undefeated skein going.

2. Anything goes in football and so long as officials can't call you on it, it's legitimate.

All sides maintained a discreet silence today.

But both incidents gave Ralph Guglielmi a chance to get off desperation passes to Dan Shannon. He hit with an 11-yard toss with one second left in the second quarter, then found him again with six seconds left in the game in the final period.

The last big Saturday of the season ran pretty much true to form. The big games of the day were on the West Coast, where UCLA and Stanford were tied for the conference lead. The Uclans defeated Southern California 13-0, and Stanford could do no better than tie California 21-21.

Oregon State, a team that couldn't score a point in its first five games, surprised one and all by beating Oregon 7-0 and Mississippi Southern which started off the season with an upset over Alabama, finished operations by thumping Georgia 14-0. Finally, Harvard upended Yale 13-0.

DOWNCAST LEAHY. This was the hang-dog expression Coach Frank Leahy wore when it didn't look so good for Notre Dame in game with Iowa at South Bend, Ind. The Irish were trailing 14-7 at the time, but scored in final minutes to end the day with, a 14-14 tie.

Fight Action Heavy For TV Ring Fans

NEW YORK (AP)—There are no title bouts this week but there are plenty of "action" fights on the national card to keep the arena and television fans happy.

Joey Giardello, Tuzo Portuguez, Lulu Perez, Davey Gallardo, Eddie Chavez, Carmen Basilio, Willie Troy, Garth Panter, Holly Mims, Joe de John, Irish Bobby Murphy and Billy Peacock are among the name boys plying their trade around the country.

Giardello, the No. 3 middleweight contender from Philadelphia, and Portuguez, the Costa Rican slugger, clash tonight in the main ten at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Arena.

Dumont telecasts the 10 p.m. EST bout to some parts of the country.

Wednesday night's coast to coast TV show (10 p.m., EST, CBS) matches Chavez, conqueror of light weight champion Jimmy Carter, and Lil Arthur King, the Canadian 135-pound king, in a ten at San Francisco's Winterland.

Friday's return ten rounder between Brooklyn's Perez and Gallardo of Los Angeles, shapes up as the fight of the week.

NBC will telecast and ABC will broadcast the 10 p.m., EST, fight.

Saturday night's coast to coast TV fight features another non-title winner over Carter, Welterweight Johnny Cunningham of Baltimore. Cunningham opposes Basilio, the Canastota, N. Y., welter contender who almost lifted Kid Gavilan's crown.

The fight will be held in Toledo, Ohio, starting at 9 p.m., EST. ABC will telecast.

30 Cagers Seeking Elm Valley Berths

ASHLEY — Thirty basketball players including four lettermen reported to Coach Ken Paul and assistant Harold Dickerschied this week for their first basketball practice before starting an 18-game schedule including the Holiday Carnival at the Marion Coliseum.

The four lettermen are forwards Walt Borchers and John Humes and Ed Vanausdle and Ron Thomas, guards. The Aces lost their scoring threat Jim Pendleton and a fast guard Glenn Rains, and may have trouble refilling these spots. Other veterans returning are Eugene Borden, Bob Curran, Richard Masters and a good string of reserves.

A very hopeful freshmen team will be started this year. The team will be the same as the Elm Valley Junior High Championship team of last year. The coach of this team will be Russ Fravel, a student coach of Ohio State.

The Aces first will be at Marengo Dec. 1. The first county opponent will be Radnor This game will be played on the Aces floor Dec. 4. From then on the Aces meet Mid-Buckeye, Mid-Ohio, and county league teams. The Valleymen will also play in the Carnival at Marion Dec. 28-29.

Military Engineers Plan Civil Defense Program

Plans for the coming year were formulated when the American Military Engineers met recently at the Marion Engineer Depot Officers Club.

Main business for the January meeting will be a program of civil defense. Speakers will outline the needs and give methods of how to study such a program and promote the subject.

New officers installed were William McGee, president, Capt. Fred J. Sullivan, vice president; Gale E. McDougle, secretary; Alvin Sanford, treasurer; and Charles Turner, publicity manager.

It is estimated there are 78 million motor vehicles in use throughout the world.

Richwood Defeats Johnstown Cagers

RICHWOOD — A last quarter spurt by Richwood boosted the Tigers to a 52-47 win over Johnstown there Saturday night. It was Richwood's first Mid-Buckeye League tilt and marked its second straight win.

Richwood led 10-6 at the first quarter and led at halftime, 20-19, but fell behind 35-30 at the three-quarter mark. A 22-point splurge in the final stanza clinched the verdict.

Tom Shields powered the Richwood attack with 25 points. John Coder supported him with nine markers. Gene Almendinger pumped in 16 points for the losers.

Richwood's futures notched a 39-17 win in the preliminary as Jim Fox sank 12 tallies. The defending county league champs travel to Milford Center Wednesday for their second Union County League contest of the campaign.

Maryland Only Major Unbeaten, Untied Power

NEW YORK (AP)—Maryland alone represented the nation's major colleges of the list of 19 unbeaten, untied football teams today.

Notre Dame dropped out Saturday when it was tied 14-14 by Iowa. Louisiana Southern also dropped out of the select group with a 35-25 loss to unbeaten, untied Florida A & M.

YOUNG GRID GIANT. Declared to be the biggest varsity football player of the year, Bob Hogue, 17, a freshman at Marietta College is 6 feet 4 inches tall and weighs 305 pounds. He hails from Cairo, W. Va. Getting uniforms to fit him presents the school with quite a problem. The little fellow packing the ball is Jeffrey Gray, 2, the team mascot.

Buck Gridders To Select 1954 Leader Tonight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State University honors its football team tonight with a huge appreciation dinner on the campus, at which the 1954 captain or co-captains will be announced.

The Bucks, after losing a 20-0 verdict to Michigan's underdog Wolverines Saturday, wound up matching their 1952 record of six victories and three defeats. Ohio hasn't won over Michigan at Ann Arbor since 1937.

But, despite the unexpected loss, tonight's dinner should be a merry one—with the emphasis on the season's "ups" rather than the "downs." The Bucks came from behind to win 5 of their 6 victories and 2 of the teams which beat 'em—Michigan State and Illinois—tied for the Big Ten title.

A host of top-flight juniors are eligible for the captaincy, but no hint as to the favorite has been forthcoming. John Borton, Dave Legget, Bob Watkins, Jim Reichenbach, Dick Hilinski, Dean Dugger and Dick Brubaker are among the candidates most likely to be introduced as the new leader by retiring co-capts. Bob Joslin and George Jacoby.

Only two games—Miami at Cincinnati, and Case at Western Reserve—remain on the Ohio college slate. Both are scheduled Thursday, and the state championship could ride on the Redskin-Bearcat clash in the Queen City. A year ago Cincinnati was a surprising 34-9 victor over Miami in the Turkey Day clash, while Western Reserve whipped Case 48-0.

Ohio State's loss to Michigan wasn't the only upset Saturday. Matching it was Marshall's 9-6 victory over Ohio University. The Thundering Herd from Huntington had been beaten soundly by John Carroll (31-0), Miami (48-6), Kent State (27-7), and Dayton (21-6), while the Bobcats had lost only to Harvard and had been tied by Miami.

In other Saturday games Ohio Wesleyan turned back Akron 28-14 for its seventh straight Ohio Conference conquest to take the mythical loop title by a wide margin, and Wooster wound up with a 5-3 record by handing Oberlin its sixth defeat, 34-3.

Saturday's games wound up Ohio's 98-contest interstate schedule. The Buckeye clubs won 54, lost 40 and tied 4, outscoring the out-of-state teams 1,989 to 1,718. In the 91-game interstate play of 1952, the Ohioans won 55, lost 32 and tied 4, with a 1,931 to 1,302 scoring edge.

Whetstone Farmers Put Good Neighbor Policy Into Effect

BUCYRUS — The farming community of Whetstone, southeast of here, demonstrated again last week its good neighbor policy.

Paul Neff, a community farmer, died unexpectedly about two weeks ago of a heart attack. Most of his corn crop still was in the fields.

Last week, 15 farmer-neighbors assembled at the Neff farm and finished picking and cribbing the corn crop for Mrs. Neff. Organizers of the movement were William Brown and Harold Brooks. Corn pickers were furnished by Robert White and Clifford Lutz. Others participating included Walter and Milton Crall, Clarence Kocher, Milton Frey, Harry Thompson, Almet Kennedy, Dale Karber, Thayer Brown, Robert Collins, Richard Brooks and Kinsel Neff.

Mrs. Neff gratefully served ice cream and cake to the workers before they left for their homes.

Police in San Antonio Wage War on Blackbirds

SAN ANTONIO, Tex (AP)—Police used guns and firecrackers today in the final stage of a three-day drive to fell, or shoo, hordes of squawking blackbirds infesting city park.

Two officers who started firing away Saturday bagged some 6,000 birds over the weekend.

Today, men with firecrackers were stationed in buildings around the park to keep the birds from flitting to safely.

"Recovering that fumble on the Browns' 25 was a big break, but we couldn't take advantage of it," Shaw said. "If we had scored we'd have gone ahead 21-20. . . I don't know who will beat the Browns now."

Navy's Mascot Missing; Army Team Blamed

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP — Navy awaited a ransom note today, confident Army would return the Middies' kidnaped goat before the Army-Navy football game.

Billy XII, Navy's blue-gray mascot, was smuggled out of his shed in Thompson Stadium by unidentified parties during the early, fog-shrouded hours yesterday morning.

Last night, Naval Academy officials said they had been informed Billy had been unveiled at the evening meal formation at West Point.

About 4 a.m. yesterday, an anonymous "female" called and asked if Billy was in his shed. A guard dispatched to check found the goat gone. He also found two empty chloform cans.

A sharp finger of suspicion was pointed at the Army soccer team which left here at noon yesterday, after beating the Middies 2-1 Saturday.

The goat didn't leave with the Cadet soccer team but Navy spokesmen feel the conspiracy was there.

No Masked Bandit, Man Just Suffered Toothache

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP — An evening stroller noticed a man wearing a scarf over the lower part of his face stalking around Sal's Service Station last night.

He called police and five squad cars bore down on the station. When they got there the "bandit" unmasked himself and announced he was Charles Harrison, 16, the attendant.

The mask? Well, Harrison had a toothache and when the damp smog began to bother him today he tied his scarf around his jaw.

Bob Hope in Color

The Bob Hope show on Monday night (which you probably didn't see because you haven't got a color set) was, according to an announcement at the beginning, "the first full hour commercial show on color television." A notable first. And, from beginning to end, an almost unqualified disaster.

J. CROSBY

For one thing, Miss Arlene Dahl, a luscious red-headed lollipop from Hollywood, had been imported to New York to play opposite Mr. Hope's wolf whistles. Miss Dahl had also, rather absently, contracted to play Roxanne opposite Jose Ferrer's "Cyrano de Bergerac" at the City Center. The two assignments were too taxing to her voice (it says here) and Miss Dahl withdrew from the Hope show, in the nick of time.

THRASHING ABOUT for a replacement, the people in charge over there came up with another red-headed lollipop, Miss Janis Paige, who was precipitated in front of the color cameras with almost no rehearsals and only the dimmest idea of what she was expected to do.

Naturally, she blew lines in all directions. It didn't matter much. The lines in that show were, if anything, improved by being massacred. Still, I think it's a bad idea to throw people in front of color cameras, unrehearsed.

About a week before the show, it was decided to demonstrate what color TV did for the feminine face and form and a call went out for beautiful women to show up at the Colonial Theater. A spy I have around here for occasions of this nature was dispatched to the Colonial to oversee this operation. "About 100 lovelies showed up," he reported "Lovelies — that's what everyone up there called them. They were accompanied by 100 agents, all unlovely." That's all I could get out of him.

A SELECTION of these lovelies was presented on the show, done up like anything in evening gowns. The gowns were spectacular. The lovelies came off second best. Considering what you can find on Fifth avenue around high noon of any shopping day, this was not anything like the best New York can produce in the line of lovelies.

When color TV is really upon us, though, I bet we're going to see a lot of lovelies. The temptation to dress up a pretty girl in as little as the law allows and parade her across the stage in four colors is going to be irresistible.

As for the show, we were warned in advance that it was a dress rehearsal — it was broadcast in black and white the following night —and that it was sveral rehearsals away from the finished product. Even allowing for its unfinised state, it was pedestrian. Hope told some jokes about color TV and Bing Crosby. "You'll see the blue of the night meet the gold of his pot."

HOPE, HIS GUEST, Fred MacMurray, and Miss Paige then perpetrated a dreary sketch about the making of filmed TV commercials which should have been funny but wasn't. (It impressed, though, that they'd even allow such a thing on the air.) There was another fairly clubfooted sketch with Hope as a college football player which should have been funny but wasn't. And Hope and Paige sang a duet, tripping prettily all over the lyrics which were pretty dull anyhow.

Incidentally, the black and white show, for which this was a rearsal, was the monthly replacement for the Milton Berle show, and Mr. Hope delivered himself of some jokes about the new, revised, expurgated Berle.

In this connection, it seemed to me that Hope had undergone some revision, too. Hope's last show got an awful lambasting from the critics on the grounds of poor taste. Mr. Hope, I guess, decided to scrub up a little himself and this show was clean as a whistle.

The color transmission, with all its imperfections and fumbling techniques, was lovely to look at. Some dramatic shows will probably profit not at all from color but for every variety show, color is going to be a tremendous asset.

STEVE CANYON By Milton Caniff

COBRA JOHNNY, YOU BRING NO-SEE WOMAN HERE! NOW IT HAS OCCURRED!
WHAT'S EATING YOU, OLD NAGA ?
THE TWO BANDITS SPEAK EXCITEDLY IN THE NATIVE TONGUE, THEN THEY TURN AND HURRY TOWARD THE VILLAGE...
HOLLY DIDN'T SEEM TO NOTICE THE NATIVE TOUCHING HIS FACE AS IF IT WERE SPOTTED! I MUST KEEP IT FROM HER-
MR. CANYON DIDN'T ACT AS IF HE SAW THE OLD MAN POINTING- HE MUST NOT COMPREHEND-
HOLLY AND MR. CANYON DO NOT REALIZE THAT I CAN UNDERSTAND SOME NATIVE SPEECH -SO THEY WON'T KNOW I HEARD-
-THAT THERE IS SMALLPOX IN THE VILLAGE!
